Chamber gets word on roadways

Mayor Ron Harvey and City Manager Bob Byron were guests at the St. Albert and District Chamber of Commerce meeting Wednesday. They came to discuss roadways and the City's plans in the near and not so near future. They also were prepared to field questions from the approximately 50 business people who attended the luncheon meeting at the St. Albert Inn.

Chairman Roger Lemieux introduced the speakers and set a 1:30 p.m. time limit on the meeting which meant the talk and any questions would all have to be handled within a half-hour period. As things turned out this was plenty of time with most of the business people present content to listen rather than ask questions.

Of particular interest to taxpayers in the community was Mr. Byron's mention that the City would be going to the electorate within a year to seek approval to borrow approximately one million dollars. The borrowing would cover the City's share of an approximate $3,000,000 needed to acquire land and construct a roadway (149 Street) to connect Campbell Industrial Park and the St. Albert Trail at 156 Street. Mr. Byron said the City is not currently carrying any significant debt in the transportation area. (Information was not requested or given on the City's total debt through borrowing in other areas including the acquisition of Campbell Industrial Park and the Downtown core lands).

Mr. Byron also said that the building of a road connecting the industrial park east of Akinsdale to the St. Albert Trail was 'absolutely essential' to the economic health of the community and that Campbell Industrial was just a forerunner to a major industrial complex in the area. He added that he had reason to suspect the City's annexation bid will be approved by the Local Authorities Board (LAB).

In response to a question by Ray Gibbon, Mr. Byron told Chamber members that the current 'Corridor Study' did not preclude a six lane highway. The study he said would recommend all the alternatives. Mr. Gibbons then asked if the funding arrangements between the City and the Province included land acquisition. Mr. Byron explained that the Province would pay 90% of the cost of the Corridor through St. Albert and that this would include land acquisition and the cost of the study. The same would hold true of the 1/3 (City) 2/3 (Prov.) road connecting Campbell Industrial to the Trail.

MORE LIGHTS ON TRAIL

Max McCann wondered what sort of alignment was planned for 149 Street and Mr. Byron told him the City of Edmonton was not interested in extending 149 Street. Please Turn to Page 5A

Celebrating Marguerite d'Youville

Residents of Youville Home enjoyed a noon banquet yesterday. The Feast of Marguerite d'Youville. Mere Marguerite d'Youville who founded the Sisters of Charity, later known as the Grey Nuns, was born on October 15, 1701, and this week is named in her honour. Today the residents are holding a dance, with the Seniors Choir, The Groovie Grannies directed by Bertha Kennedy as their guests. The outstanding Canadian for whom the Home was named was famous for her piety and devotion to the poor.

Programs, manpower needed

New library gets top priority in report

A report which has garnered praise from several quarters was officially presented Monday night to St. Albert city council. The report of the Ad Hoc Citizens Committee on Cultural Activities was presented by Jerry Jaycocks of the CSAB, which was commissioned by council to do the report, and Les Graff, chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee which was formed to prepare it. The report was one year in the making.

Giving extensive documentation of the methods used, the report presents a series of proposals for cultural development here. The proposals relate to each of the cultural disciplines, and are given in order of their suggested time sequence. Recommended for the first time level are the following: the construction of a library; the assignment of manpower and budget for Visual Arts and Crafts; manpower for the conservation of historic resources; a leadership training program to further social activities, and a program budget for performing arts. The report suggests Level One recommendations might be implemented in one and one-half years.

Before Mr. Graff gave a summation of the four-inch thick report, Mr. Jaycocks had some congratulatory words for the committee. He said the report had taken 1200 volunteer hours and required "almost unbelievable" effort. Interest has been expressed by other levels of government in using the report as a model, as its methodology is "extremely valid."

"Everyone in St. Albert could contribute," said Mr.

Jaycocks. "Every man, woman or child had an opportunity for input."

Mr. Jaycocks also told council that CSAB Chairman Doreen Rowe has asked that council not shelve the report.

"We moved quickly on the Games, on the new arena and the swimming pool, all of which cost about $4 million," commented Mr. Jaycocks. He said he hoped council would move as quickly on the cultural needs.

Mr. Jaycocks concluded by thanking committee members.

GRAFF EXPLAINS

Mr. Graff then took over, explaining that every step in the information gathering process was documented. The methods for collecting data included questionnaires to cultural and social organizations; door-to-door mini-survey; an open house; a school survey; a review of previous reports on cultural matters; the study of briefs submitted by organizations and interviews with professionals.

Although members of council had not been able to read the mammoth report in depth, they still had several questions. Ald. Liesbeth Bakker asked if there was any priority for level one proposals. Mr. Graff said there was not, as the committee had given proposals for facilities, programs and manpower, the three crucial components.

"Instead of recommending facilities across the board," said Mr. Graff, "we picked the one facility that was most needed. We felt that a library is the heart of any cultural community so decided it should be first facility."

Budget considerations were troubling Ald. Rod Thronson, who asked what would happen if the city could not afford all the Level One proposals. Mr. Graff suggested that an in-depth reading of the report would yield some answers to this question.

NO LARGE PERMANENT STAFF

Ald. Smith thanked the committee for what she termed "a voluminous report" and asked about the report's proposals for increased manpower. Mr. Graff explained that the committee was not encouraging the city to start building a large staff for cultural purposes. As many people could be hired on a contract basis for one or two years. He commented that at Level One the committee had recommended manpower be hired for Historical resources. Please Turn to Page A - 8

West by-pass

Horner letter prompts queries

The "West By-Pass Issue" was a late entry onto the council agenda Monday night, when Ald. Bill Shields moved that a letter from Transportation Minister Horner to Mayor Harvey be received. The letter confirmed that a west by-pass or arterial road will be built west of the city to reduce traffic on Highway 2. Dr. Horner said in the letter that the road will first be precisely aligned through a corridor running west of St. Albert. Right-of-way will then be acquired for development of the roadway, connecting with the 170 Street truck corridor through Edmonton. The letter notes that such roads have been tabbed by-passes.

Ald. Shields stated that he had a number of questions about the Gazette report of October 10, and the letter from Dr. Horner to Mayor Harvey of the same date. He then asked the mayor if the October 10 letter was the extent of the information from the Department of Transportation. Mr. Harvey said that it was.

Mr. Shields had more queries for the mayor.

"Do you know if this is based on any previous proposal from a member of the Legislature, that there would be no by-pass unless the city withdrew its opposition to the Genstar annexation?" he inquired.

The mayor replied emphatically that Dr. Horner had Please Turn to Page 4A

Teachers vote on contract tonight

One week ago today the trustees of the St. Albert Protestant Separate School District voted unanimously to accept a conciliation board award that called for a 7.55 percent increase in teacher wages in 1978. Tonight it will be the teachers' turn.

The award also recommended that the principals' allowance be increased and that the District pay 75 percent of teacher Alberta Health Care premiums as of November 1, 1978.

Currently each principal in the District receives an allowance at the rate of $2.60 per pupil in his/her school to a maximum of $5,000. This will be increased (if the award is accepted by the ATA) to $2.80 per student to a maximum of $5,560. It will also now include an allowance of $1.40 per kindergarten pupil; an allowance not included in the last contract. The principals' allowance will be retroactive to Please Turn to Page 2A

St. Albert loses well loved pioneer

St. Albert has lost another of its pioneers with the passing of Mrs. Isabel MacMillan on September 30, at the age of 93 years. This very kind and gracious lady succumbed to cancer at the Sturgeon General Hospital after a lengthy illness, borne with great patience and resignation to the will of God.

Mrs. MacMillan was truly a pioneer in every sense, she lived first on a farm in the St. Albert district for many years, finally moving to the then tiny hamlet of St. Albert 55 years ago. She thus saw over these years the changes leading up to our present prosperous city status.

For the past 26 years, Mrs. MacMillan had made her home at 34 Sturgeon Road with her son Earl. It was there that members of the family enjoyed meeting of a Sunday afternoon - and where they could always count on a warm welcome

ISABEL MacMILLAN from "Grandma MacMillan." She is and will always be sadly missed.

She leaves to mourn her passing four sons and two daughters, John and Earl of St. Albert, Billy of Lac la Poudre, Simon of Edmonton, Teresa Laycock of Vacaville, California and Marie Thomson of Edmonton, as well as 19 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren. She is also survived by three sisters, Jessie White, Peggy Robertson and Kathleen Fraser all of Spokane, Washington. Her husband Angus predeceased her on December 19, 1954 and a son Collin on June 9, 1978.

Prayers were conducted by Father Colin Levangie, OMI at Connelly-McKinley's on Tuesday evening, October 3, and Mass of Christian Burial was held the following morning at the St. Albert Roman Catholic Church with Father Maurice Lafrance officiating. Father Angus McRae, well-known to the MacMillan families, was concelebrant at this Mass.

Being of Scottish descent, it was most fitting that the bag-pipes should play a part in Mrs. MacMillan's funeral service. Piper Irwin Nasset did the honors, and it was to the skirl of the pipes that the funeral cortege was led from the church to the graveside.

Following the services, coffee was served for family and friends in the Lacombe Room of the church basement.

Mrs. MacMillan's three sisters from Spokane, accompanied by a niece, Muriel Kiitock, of Great Falls, Montana, were able to attend the funeral. They then spent a few days visiting relatives before returning home.

Not to be outdone
Every year Shorty Wales manages to grow at least one unusual vegetable in his garden and each year he brings one to the Gazette office to show off to our readers. This year his race horses and a move took most of his time and he couldn't tend to his garden the way he would have liked to but that didn't deter him. He borrowed this 2 lb. 3 oz. carrot from his friends Frank and Jimmy Stewart who live 10 miles west of St. Albert and brought it to the office. He says sandy soil and heavy rain were responsible for putting weight on this fellow.

Chamber seeking Citizen of Year

Do you know someone who has quietly been working behind the scenes for community betterment?

Someone who has been working through their church service club or on their own with the handicapped or seniors or youth or underprivileged or sick, etc. Consideration will be given to the individual's contribution to the community over the past five years although 1978 is the time period receiving the most emphasis.

Nominations may be made by any sponsoring group or individual. Forms are available at the Gazette office or any member of the St. Albert and District Chamber of Commerce.

All nominations must be submitted by December 31, 1978.

A Selection Committee chaired by Mrs. Doreen Robinson will choose the 1978 Citizen of the Year and bestow the award at the Chamber's annual banquet in January of 1979.

Card of Thanks

We wish to extend heartfelt thanks to our friends and relatives for their messages of sympathy, mass cards, floral tributes and donations to the Heart and Cancer Funds received during the loss of our mother, grandmother and great grandmother Isabel MacMillan. Our very special thanks to Fathers Lafrance, Levangie and McRae, to the Honorary Pallbearers, to the active Pallbearers - all grandsons of the deceased, to the organist Mrs. Bertha Kennedy, to Piper Irwin Nasset and to Connelly McKinley. We are deeply grateful also to Dr. W. Skrobot and to the nursing staff of the Sturgeon General Hospital for the wonderful care given to our loved one during her long illness.

Council ready to act on dog bylaw

The issue has proven itself a sticky one, but an undaunted city council has given the go-ahead to proceed with enacting the draft animal control bylaw. The council discussed the controversial issue at its Committee of the Whole meeting last Tuesday night.

Ald. Bill Shields said that much comment had been received from citizens on the matter, and commented he could see nothing wrong with it.

"We can't accommodate every conceivable situation," commented Mr. Shields. Ald. Breadner agreed council should go ahead with the bylaw.

Ald. Thronson said he was concerned about the enforceability of the bylaw, and asked City Administrator Bob Byron if it would be a problem to enforce.

Mr. Byron replied that the difficulty came in applying the law fairly and continuously, particularly in the pooper-scooper section of the bylaw. He said the bylaw could only be tried and assessed, and then brought back to council if it was proven unworkable.

"Well, the old bylaw didn't solve the problems. This one might bring some changes, I'll support it. It's a good beginning," stated Ald. Thronson.

Ald. Margaret Smith said the bylaw "goes some way to meet the situation but said she didn't know if it went 'all the way.'" Mrs. Smith said she was saddened by the fact many dogs had to be destroyed, and wondered if the city should not have attempted a "complete leash bylaw." Mrs. Smith said she would like to have this idea looked at, as it would also prevent traffic hazards from animals at large. She also suggested a higher licence fee be charged for those with a third animal, who do not have a kennel licence.

Ald. Bakker felt that $5 or $10 for the licence was too little, but Mr. Byron responded that it had not been the intent to make the cost punitive.

The bylaw will come up for first reading in the near future.

January 1, 1978.

The Board previously paid 50 percent of the teachers' Health Care premiums.

John Osgood, chairman of the Economic Policy Committee, the teachers' voice in contract negotiations, told the Gazette the EPC will recommend to the teachers that they accept the conciliation award. If they do the track will be cleared for a new round of negotiations - the 1979 contract. Talks are due to begin in six weeks.

Indications are that the teachers will again be asking for a contract that would give them parity with teachers in the Edmonton Public System. If so the demand will be for a greater increase than 7.55 percent.

Hospital may face strike

The Alberta Hospital Association recommended October 12 that its members accept the terms of a contract agreement with the Canadian Union of Public Employees recently set out by a provincial conciliation board majority report.

It is estimated this agreement will cost Alberta hospitals an additional $2.5 million in total this year.

However by the deadline yesterday, and following a meeting of the CUPE negotiating committee Monday, it appears that the hospital workers may be heading for a strike, which would include the Sturgeon General in St. Albert. Bill Petrie, CUPE co-ordinator for the Province said a strike appears certain. The committee will recommend rejection of the conciliation award.

The Minister of Labour, Neil Crawford, had requested both the union and the hospital boards to have votes taken on the proposed agreement and the information in to his office by October 17. Results from the Boards were in at 4:30 yesterday, but it is not known when the CUPE negotiating committee will poll its members, who will be holding meetings this week and next.

"Actually I am quite angry" said Vern Rheault, assistant executive director of Employee Relations, "with the attitude of the union negotiating committee." He feels the terms of the agreement of a basic six percent increase, plus additional benefits, and up to 13 percent for lower job classifications, is fair and notes that it is in line with what other hospital workers have settled for. Other hospitals affected are Fort Saskatchewan, St. Joseph's in Edmonton and the Norwood, Lynwood, Angus McGugan and Good Samaritan auxiliary hospitals.

Recommendations in the report which suggested a two year agreement, included:

That a six percent salary increase, retroactive to April

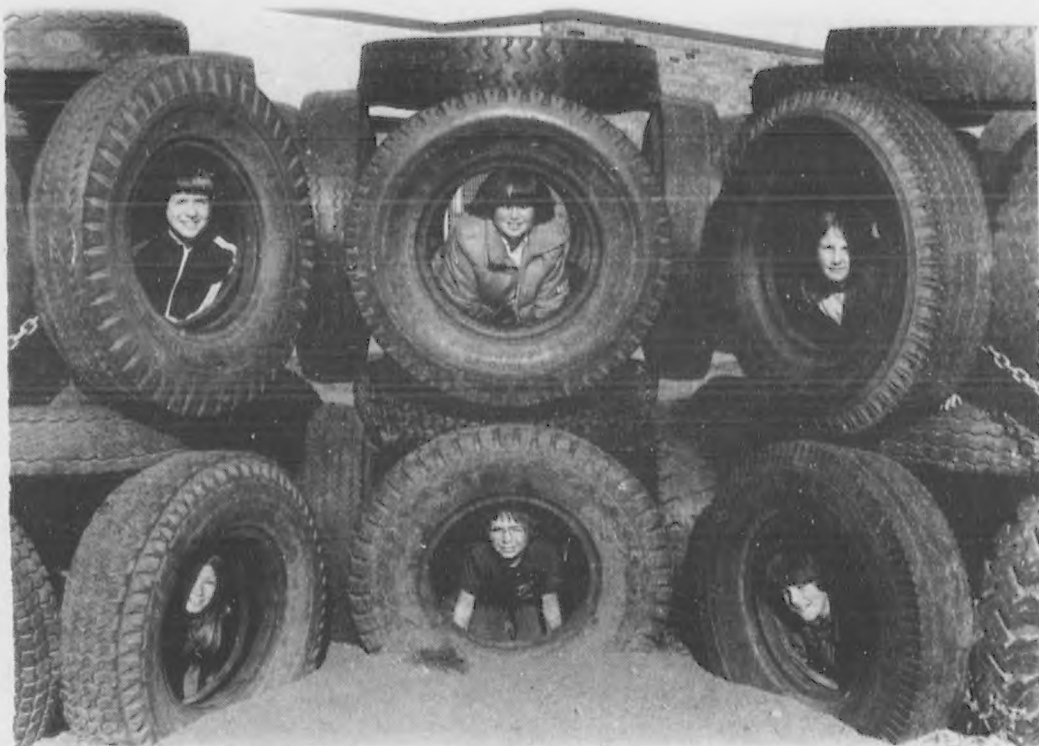

1, 1978, be granted in the first year of a new contract, and that a percentage increase equal to the percentage increase of the Consumer Price Index between December 1977 and December 1978 be granted in the second year.

That an increase in vacation be granted. The recommended increase is four weeks of vacation after five years of service, rather than eight years, as set out in the previous agreement and a total of five weeks of vacation after 20 years of service. These vacation provisions are in line with every other union in the province.

That trades workers receive the same salary increases as those received by other workers in the bargaining unit. Previously, trades workers received 95 percent of local construction trades rates as negotiated by the Alberta Construction Labour Relations Association.

That an increase in shift differential pay be granted, retroactive to April 1, 1978. The recommended increase is 20¢ per hour, from 16¢ per hour previously, in the first year of the contract. This rate will rise to 22¢ per hour in the second year of the contract. (Differential pay is granted workers who work the majority of their shifts between 3 p.m. and 7 a.m.).

This C.U.P.E. union group, which represents approximately 3,800 workers, is the only group of unionized hospital employees not to have settled at a six percent salary increase this year. In fact, two C.U.P.E. locals in Edmonton representing approximately 1,300 workers, have already settled for a similar agreement. There are some 30,000 workers employed in the hospital and nursing home fields in Alberta. Nurses, paramedics, physiotherapists, dietary workers, pharmacists have settled at 6 percent, as has the Alberta Union of Provincial Employees, said Vern Rheault.

Lions ask city to buy bandshell

In a brief but meaningful letter to the city, the St. Albert Breakfast Lions have asked city council to consider purchasing the outdoor bandshell located at Lions Park. The terse description of repairs made to the bandshell says much about the Lions struggle to keep the facility intact in the face of rising vandalism. The club replaced rotted 2x4's and plywood sheeting. The asphalt shingle roof was replaced with one of heavy galvanized corrugated steel, the ceiling was repaired and broken concrete blocks on the back wall replaced. The club asked that the city purchase the bandshell for one dollar.

In moving receipt, Ald. Thronson said the letter was indicative of the frustration the Lions felt with vandalism. He commented the back roof had been smashed and that the Breakfast Lions were saying "we've had it right up to the neck."

Mayor Harvey asked if a vandalism patrol had been considered, and was told by Mr. Byron that the suggestion had not gone beyond the discussion stage.

Ald. Bakker suggested that part of a mill be put in the budget to repair the "ravages of vandalism."

Ald. Breadner said he was "not at all sure that I want to buy this for $1. We have an agreement to maintain this park already."

The matter of ownership between the Lions and the City as regards Lions Park is being looked into at present, said Ald. Shields.

Penner new Board chairman

Trustees of the St. Albert Protestant Separate School District selected Wes Penner to head the Board for the 1978-79 year at their organizational meeting October 11. Mr. Penner takes over from outgoing chairman, Ernie Wynychuk who Mr. Penner described as a man 'who took his work seriously but never himself seriously' - a trait that enabled him to guide the Board and its committees through some trying situations with a minimum of difficulty.

Gary Hodgins assumes the role of vice-chairman taking over from Scott Friese.

Trustee Friese served notice of motion of the Board's intention to regroup its standing committees to el-minate overlap. The new titles will reflect the function of the committees. Chairmen and titles of the various committees will be announced October 25 at the Board's regular meeting.

The Gazette Reflects

LET'S START WITH CUPW

Wouldn't it be great if you could work a 30 hour week and still be paid as if you had put in the normal 40 hours? That's just one of the demands the inside postal workers are insisting upon in their current round of contract negotiations. To quote from their demands "the Employer has a responsibility to postal workers and the public to respond affirmatively to the Union's proposal for a reduced work week and an obligation to do so in a manner which will not involve adverse effects such as reduced income."

They would also like rest periods included in the collective agreement and more full time help hired to ease the workload.

And to top all this, they would like wage rates which would put them in a class with skilled tradesmen. Yet it does not take a two, three or four year apprenticeship program to train these people. In fact, most jobs done by the inside postal workers are unskilled in the tradesman or any other definition of the term.

These demands, which equate postal workers and tradesmen, are invalidly founded on several other grounds as well. Tradesmen receive high wages to compensate for hardships that come with the territory. Men working in trades do not enjoy the job security of postal workers. Their work is seasonal and lay offs are an occupational hazard. Often, such workers must leave their home and families for extended periods to practice their trades. Postal workers endure none of these trials, so why should they receive the same wage benefits?

Have Canadians learned nothing from the experience of Great Britain? Excessive wage demands are leading us to economic ruin:

Are postal workers and others really thinking about the effects of strikes on their own general well being--including wage loss during the strike period--or are they being unduly influenced by union leaders who seem to feel their job depends on just one attitude -- we want more!!

Do they realize that Canada must be competitive in an international market place if we wish to lower unemployment and slow inflation? If Fitness and Amateur Sports can 'sell' fitness with 'Participation' could not the Department of Trade and Commerce 'sell' international competitiveness with a similar program?

The inside postal workers have been blackmailing the taxpayers of Canada for years with the strike weapon. It's time for the Federal and Provincial Governments to take a firm stand on strikes in the public sector and put an end to this intolerable interference with the already-suffering economy.

"Say, Fred, can farmers deduct medical expenses incurred because of a nervous condition brought on by excessive taxation?"

Horner letter

Mr. Shields then wished to know where the right-of-way would be and how it will be acquired. City Manager Bob Byron said there had been no map at the meeting with Alberta Transportation, and that the alignment would be outside city limits, and the exact location could only be guessed at.

"Did Horner give any indication where the by-pass would go?", inquired Mr. Shields.

Mr. Byron replied it would go up Bellerose Drive and might tie into Secondary Road 635, but the precise staging of the road was not known.

"What is the timeline for start-up? What are the budget implications? Are there any figures on it?", asked Mr. Shields.

Mr. Harvey replied that the process could take four or five years, depending on the amount of time required to acquire the land.

BIG LAKE AFFECTED?

Ald. Rod Thronson expressed a concern for the Big Lake Study Area, saying that the location, alignment and timing of the road were important when planning for the area. Mr. Harvey said that 10 staff members from Alberta Transportation had been working on these questions last week.

Ald. Smith said she was pleased that some truck traffic would be reduced from the coal mine and gravel pit but commented "I don't know how much use our residents will make of it."

Ald. Ayotte complimented the mayor on his efforts and said he thought the road would be used for more than a resource road.

Ald. Breadner had reservations however. "I would offer my compliments but I don't think it's in the near future. It is tied to 170 Street which is four - five years away in terms of what I understand."

Mr. Thronson said the confirmation from Dr. Horner was "just a first step" and that "there are questions there that haunt us." He said, however, that he was pleased that "something appears to have happened."

Mr. Shields remarked at the end of the discussion that he did not like the use of the word by-pass. "Horner doesn't refer to it as a by-pass," he stated. Mr. Byron suggested it be referred to as a northwest arterial road.

Council hears surprise presentation

City council was caught off guard Monday night and ended up hearing an unscheduled presentation of a development proposal. Such proposals are normally routed through the Municipal Planning Commission for recommendation before coming to council. Mr. J. Skvaril, of Walker, Newby Associates appeared before council ostensibly to "clarify problems" related to a proposed development in the Ball Estates. However, shortly after he made his opening remarks, Mr. Skvaril produced some architect's drawings of a new alternative for the Ball Estate site. MPC Chairman Barry Breadner said later it was the ninth such alternative presented by the firm.

The site in question is bounded by the St. Albert Trail, Glen Meadow Crescent, Greenwood Drive and Grandin Road. The ravine runs through the property. Mr. Skvaril held public meetings in August to sound out public opinion on his firm's proposals. The public meetings were held prior to any presentation to the MPC. Mr. Skvaril complained of poor communications with city administration, saying that he was not told that the area was off limits to multiple family housing until after his presentation to MPC October 11, when the Director of Planning, Wayne Gordon, informed him MPC had rejected his proposal. Mr. Skvaril said he should have been told before this. The MPC's rejection was based upon the Ball Estate Brief and the General Plan.

The architect then moved quickly into a presentation of his newest proposal, which still contains a multiple housing component. The proposal calls for duplexes and single family dwellings.

Mr. Skvaril said he wished the city would consider something other than single family dwellings and allow the company to try some innovative urban housing. He said the housing he proposed would be of a very high quality, and said the firm for which he worked was willing to give up an additional strip of land to secure the city's permission to proceed. The extra land would be used for a walkway, he said.

Ald. Breadner commented at the conclusion of Mr. Skvaril's presentation that MPC had acted as expeditiously as possible and had made no promises when Mr. Skvaril came forward to inform them of his intention to hold a public meeting.

Mrs. Bakker suggested that Mr. Skvaril should be given an opportunity to solicit more public input on the question of the housing development. She said she had seen innovative housing in Vancouver and that extensive public participation was needed before it came about.

"We're shutting the door on innovative housing," she said.

Ald. Thronson did not agree.

"This is not shutting the door on innovative housing in other areas," he stated. "But I think if you have innovative housing it should be in a large area not in a small area after the fact."

"Well said!" commented Mr. Breadner.

Ald. Margaret Smith commented that the council had been very tolerant in listening to Mr. Skvaril's presentation, which had been unscheduled.

Hospital sponsors seminar

The Department of Medicine, Sturgeon General Hospital, will be sponsoring an Acute Care Seminar on November 1 - 3, at the St. Albert Inn. The course will be chaired by Dr. W. Larry Read and Dr. Ken Chow.

The program, co-sponsored by the Division of Continuing Medical Education of the University of Alberta and by the Council of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Alberta, is designed to update the skills of physicians, nurses and other health care professionals in the treatment of a variety of acute conditions.

The medical and nursing staffs of the Sturgeon General Hospital have put together a three-day program covering care of respiratory, surgical, cardiac, pediatric and obstetrical acute conditions and their most effective management.

Guest speakers include 23 specialists in the various fields covered.

Two years ago the Hospital's Department of Medicine offered a similar seminar which was well attended by physicians and nurses from throughout Alberta, the neighbouring provinces and the United States. Congratulatory messages received from participants following the 1976 event indicated that the material presented had been of considerable assistance in improving patient care throughout a broad geographical area as a result of the stress placed upon newer treatments and techniques by knowledgeable and effective speakers.

Early enrollments indicate that this year's event will be even better attended than was the course in 1976 when 128 persons enrolled and attended.

The disarmament issue

I'm sorry this letter is so late, but I believe any response on the whole disarmament issue is better than none at all. My interest was sparked by the article "The disarmament development link" in your September 6 issue.

I appreciated the article in that many of my own views were expressed by Jeff Endrst. It seems today that North Americans are so naive to the relationship of our developed countries to third world countries. We as Canadians, are so caught up in trying to serve or please our ego's that we fail to see that we live in a global village. We need constant refreshment like Endrst's article to show us that our expenditures on the military and our consumption of goods have a great effect on the lifestyle choices of others.

Our concern for disarmament should be a deep one. It is easy to see a "madness" in the arms race yet we as Canadians, also are a part of this madness. Canada has expressed it's desire to export uranium. In doing so, we are providing the ammunition for bombs to countries like the Philippines.

Near Warman, Saskatchewan (the town in which I was raised), a uranium refinery has been proposed. The Warman town council has voted in favour of the plant and has publicly expressed its approval to the media. This was done with no consultation with the townspeople. To me, I see little democracy here because last fall when the Cluff Lake Board of Inquiry held a hearing in Warman on the whole uranium development issue, a clear majority showed opposition to the project. People were opposed on various grounds including environmental hazards and moral reasons. These moral reasons were concerned with nuclear proliferation of weapons.

In conclusion, I would just say that I appreciated seeing your paper include the article. Disarmament and development are so closely tied that no one Canadian can afford to be blind to this.

My letter is a challenge for people to see how our own lifestyle is relative to the whole "arms" question. Each Canadian must follow our energy policies and speak out if it does not seem in accord with the direction of human kind. Disarmament is a concern for all man.

Any response is greatly welcome.

Murray Doell,
Warman, Saskatchewan.

Around Town

Vehicles containing some strange looking characters left St. Albert last Friday night for a Monster Mash at the Romania Centre. The brainwave for the bash came from a gruesome hunchback by the name of Keith Rae. (A former Gazette carrier). Converging on the scene were various mummies, Frankensteins, two pigs, a telephone, a miscellaneous assortment of degenerates and other grotesque creatures. Tim McFarlane won the $50 prize for the best costume and Raymond Hill and Linda Kennedy won some bubbles for being the best costumed couple. It was good to see Casey Kelly back with the group following his electrifying experience.

Michael Basaraba has been chosen Lion of the Month by the St. Albert Breakfast Lions Club directors. A mechanical engineer Mike has lived in a number of Alberta communities, and has recently been appointed project manager for a natural gas construction project in northeastern British Columbia. He is employed by Mobile Oil of Canada, Mike and his wife Delphine have three children, Lorne, Janice and Maureen. Wherever he goes Mike gets involved -- as a sports director in Calgary, playing hockey and chairing the Kiwanis Winter Carnival in Olds, working on six different projects with the Lions in St. Albert since joining in 1976, coaching both hockey and baseball in Calgary, Olds and St. Albert. When he can find a little time he enjoys fishing and golf. The Lions and the community at large will feel the loss of this outstanding citizen.

Our mistake

The Gazette wishes to apologize for a regrettable error which appeared in its report of court proceedings last week. The article in question stated that Douglas Michael Stenrue of St. Albert had been convicted of having liquor illegally. Mr. Stenrue was neither charged with or convicted of this, and the statement was made in error. He was convicted of stunting and fined $30. He doesn't live at 10107 - 130 Avenue, Edmonton either. He lives in St. Albert.

The family residing at 57 Gillian Crescent would like to make it clear that no Robert Brent Watt lives at that address as reported in the same story. That makes it one mistake for the Gazette and two for the RCMP in one short story.

Street north. The section bordering Campbell Industrial on the west (an extended line from 142 Street in Edmonton borders Campbell on the east) would be curved so as to intersect the St. Albert Trail at 156 Street where traffic lights would be installed. 156 Street is eventually destined for six lanes Mr. Byron said. 170 Street will also grow to six lanes and will underpass the CNR mainline to connect with Edmonton's arterial in about five years.

EAST BY-PASS LONG WAY OFF

The city manager told the meeting that an east by-pass around St. Albert could not connect to 127 Street in Edmonton. It would have to connect to a ring road surrounding the larger centre. A ring road 'which is said to be in the green belt' is 15-20 years away he said. The city will keep its options open on this route and in the meantime Highway 2 (St. Albert Trail) will serve a very useful function.

Mayor Harvey pointed out that ring roads would do merchants 'quite a bit of harm' by diverting traffic around the city. He said he thinks 'the corridor will be a definite advantage to the people of St. Albert.' In reference to the recent Sturgeon Action Committee's protest against the corridor the mayor said he must consider all the residents of St. Albert and not just some. He said he had lived beside the highway for 23 years and had no complaints. A sign warning northbound truckers of the hill preceding the lights at St. Albert Trail and St. Anne Street was being erected.

30,000 VEHICLES PER DAY

At present 30-31,000 vehicles per day are using the

St. Albert Trail south of St. Albert and 6,500 are arriving each day from points north. A median separating north and southbound traffic planned for 1979 has been set back to 1980 to allow upgrading of 156 Street first. Without alternative outlets for traffic normally carried by the Trail the impact of construction of a median "would be an impossible situation," said Mr. Byron.

The design for the upgrading of 156 Street, the traffic lights at the intersection with the Trail and the 149 Street alignment will be completed this fall ready for construction next year. The city manager repeated that this work was "essential to the business health of St. Albert."

St. Albert Trail will eventually underpass 125 Avenue when Edmonton completes construction of its major east-west arterial expected in about two years. It is hoped that underpassing will not merely move the congestion a few blocks south to the circle at 118 Avenue, because motor vehicles will make their way east or west when they reach 125 Avenue.

The Trail will retain its present four lanes for private vehicle traffic plus two shoulder lanes for public transportation. Within the city limits the Trail would need to be upgraded to handle the additional lanes while south of the city it would be adequate as is, with only line painting needed. The six lanes would reach as far north as McKenney Avenue.

WEST BY-PASS

Mr. Byron said the North-west Arterial (west by-pass) was the most certain possibility to relieve traffic from the north and that until it is built, St. Albert will continue to have gravel and coal trucks passing through. The road, he said, was being built to serve industry.

The province is presently in the process of defining the alignment and acquiring the right-of-way for the route which will connect with the Villeneuve Road, McKenney Avenue, Riel Drive and likely somewhere near Sir Winston Churchill Avenue and Levasseur Road.

When contacted later in the week MLA Jamison said that work on the south leg of the road connecting to Riel Business Park will commence in 1979. It is being timed to coincide with the upgrading of 170 Street and will provide additional industrial land for development south of Riel Business Park. When developed this will add to St. Albert's badly needed tax base he said.

Mr. Byron said he expected traffic will be using the road in about five years. The major construction obstacle will be the bridge crossing the Sturgeon River near where Big Lake empties.

Toastmasters receive charter

Are you one of those people who, when called on to speak in public, develops butterflies or breaks out in goose flesh? Chances are you would benefit from becoming a member of Toastmasters.

Toastmasters is more than a speech organization. It is an organization of individuals, who seek to improve their self-confidence and develop themselves through improved speaking ability. There are no occupational or educational requirements to membership.

Basically, Toastmasters is an organization concerned with communications - not just speech-making before an audience. By following the Toastmasters motto, better listening, better thinking, better speaking, members attain a greater effectiveness in life's everyday situations.

The organization began 50 years ago in Santa Ana, California. The founder was a YMCA secretary, the late Dr. Ralph C. Smedley. His original concept which still exists today, is primarily an educational, non-profit, non-partisan, non-sectarian organization.

Since the first club was formed, the membership has grown to 80,000 members in more than 3,500 clubs in 50 countries and territories in the world. Since inception some one million individuals have benefited from membership. New clubs continue to form each year as people realize the value in training and developing themselves.

The Settlement on Sturgeon Club is a new club which received its charter Monday evening at a ceremony held in the St. Albert Inn. The meetings are presently held in Room 102, Paul Kange High school each Monday 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. A typical meeting includes training in parliamentary procedure, impromptu speaking, formal speeches, and evaluation.

A potential member who wishes to attend a meeting may go as a guest and form his own opinion. Prospective members may obtain information and details on the Settlement on Sturgeon Club by calling Bill Webber, club president, 459-7023 or Rod Bower, membership chairman, 458-2107.

There are no paid instructors; the club functions through a co-operative system of members helping each other. A 15-step leadership guide carefully explains and outlines the formal assignments. Starting with the "ice-breaker" speech a new recruit is on his way to self-improvement with the club acting as his training ground. The club is limited to 40 members so participants may enjoy frequent opportunities to, speak, preside, or evaluate at each meeting.

Members may also attend conferences, speech contests and become active in a speaker's bureau which gives members an opportunity to appear before other groups.

For the enthusiastic members, Toastmasters is a way of life. As one member puts it, "with a little practice, you can soon train those butterflies to fly in formation."

Toasts Toastmasters

Mayor Ron Harvey addressed the newly formed St. Albert Toastmasters Club at its charter night Monday at Paul Kane High School.

Museum planned at Athabasca

The annual general meeting of the Trail North Foundation will be held tomorrow, October 19 at St. Albert Inn, starting at 8 p.m. All members are encouraged to attend.

The Foundation has received approval from the Town and the County of Athabasca to develop a major museum complex at the historic landing site at Athabasca, with an overall theme dealing with northern transportation in general. In particular the museum will feature Athabasca's historic significance in the development of Northern Alberta.

The proposed development is to include a major museum, outdoor exhibits, boat building shed, docking facilities and an operational sternwheeler.

Trail North is presently recording the area's heritage and would appreciate hearing from people about their family's life along the Athabasca Landing Trail.

Take a long look at this new symbol.

It stands for conservation.

It stands to reason that if we all use energy wisely, we can reduce our energy use. That means we can take the pressure off Alberta's non-renewable resources. It also means we can curb the ever-increasing costs of providing generating facilities to produce electricity. That's good for Alberta—and for you! If we all work together, rate increases in the future can be held to a reasonable level.

It stands for co-operation.

Alberta's electric utilities are working together to promote the wise use of energy. But we won't achieve our goal without your help. Individuals and businesses alike can help in many ways to reduce energy demand. These steps can add up to substantial savings. Watch for messages featuring this new symbol.

Conserve.
It's worth the energy!

Catholic School Board

Move made to open committee meetings

Shortly after the 1977 School Board elections newcomer Jerry Manegre moved that the District 3 Board open its committee meetings to the public. His motion was defeated and by the discussion it was plain that a majority of trustees felt public scrutiny would have a detrimental effect on the committee members willingness to fully discuss matters before them.

Monday night Mrs. J. Anderson, a lawyer with the Alberta School Trustees Association, met with the Board to clarify a section of the 1971 School Act that deals with meetings of the Board. It was her opinion that the Act did not require School Boards to hold committee meetings in public although they could of course do so if they wished. She pointed out that section 65 3F did state that minutes must be kept of all meetings whether held in public or not.

Trustee Manegre asked Mrs. Anderson if any parallels could be drawn with the Municipal Act. He said he was referring to the case in which an Edmonton Journal reporter won a court case to open Edmonton city council committee meetings. Mrs. Anderson's answer was that School Boards operated under the School Act inferring that there was no parallel.

Mrs. Anderson told Board members that the Board could delegate its powers to a committee which could then declare its meetings open or closed as it wished. She said the section of the Act dealing with the Board's power to delegate its power could even be used to delegate power to an individual if it chose to do so. However, she added, if a Board was to abuse this power in a manner such as this the Provincial government would not be long in amending the Act.

This discussion with the ASTA solicitor cleared the way for Trustee Manegre to try once more to open the Board's committee meetings. Later in the meeting after Trustee Steve Sieben had left he moved that the Board's Board Policy Committee draft a policy declaring all meetings of Board Committees be open to the public unless the members of the committees chose to close them.

Trustee Ken Porter immediately realized that a vote for a motion to draft an open meeting policy was in effect a vote to hold open meetings. He asked if the motion might be made as a notice of motion to give Board members a chance to think it over but quickly changed his mind and said he had no qualms about supporting the motion. Trustee Don Lavoy agreed.

Mr. Manegre said, "the function of a committee is to study in depth ... and members of the public should have access to the information that we are making some pretty important decisions on." He said that often a committee consisting of only two members would meet and that the other members would attend as non-voting members. Then when the matter comes before the Board for a decision no one asks any questions and the public doesn't really know what went on.

Board Chairman Ann Smith had trouble with the concept of two-man committees being able to decide if a meeting was to be closed or open. One member might say yes and the other no and there would not be a third and tie-breaking vote.

The other members of the Board did not feel this would be any problem and voted in favour of the motion. Chairman Smith opposed; reminding the other members that she was the chairman of the Board Policy Committee - the committee designated to draft the policy.

Group piano gets rough ride

Trustees of the Catholic School Board supported an administrative recommendation that a request by the Piano Class Teachers to provide group piano lessons in the district be denied. They did, however, agree that the teachers should apply for use of the schools under the Joint Use Agreement and ask the administration of the district to discuss this with the teachers.

No music teachers are presently employed by the district although the district does meet minimum requirements of Alberta Education in this area. Superintendent Bill Zielinski told Board members that all schools now have music in their timetables but he wasn't convinced that the district had a totally acceptable music program.

The trustees were told information suggested parents overwhelmingly supported the program as it is now offered by Edmonton Separate and that the demand outstripped the supply of teachers.

The administration opposed the concept on four grounds. Group piano was defined as a commercial venture by the administration and they didn't want to open the doors to a flood of similar programs but Trustee Ken Porter said the group was non-profit and to deny them access to the schools would be denying children a low cost source of music lessons.

Operating during instructional time was another problem seen by the administration and they were concerned that it would be discriminatory towards adult volunteers who presently gave their time freely for various programs in the schools. The group piano teachers would receive a fee.

The main stumbling block was the reaction of school principals. All were opposed to the entire concept. They ran into hassles moving pianos from room to room and some complained that every time groups were allowed to use classrooms articles belonging to students and the district went astray.

Trustees Manegre, Porter

and Lavoy could not see any problems here if the people using the piano put it back after each use. Yet they did support the position that the Principals should not have the responsibility of supervision and that the Joint Use Agreement was probably the best approach.

District 6 is currently piloting the project and District 3 will await the results.

C.G.I.T. elect new executive

The St. Albert C.G.I.T. are well underway again this year. The first executive meeting has been held with the new slate of officers for 1978-79. These are - President, Randa Kinney; Vice President, Brenda Troughton; Secretary, Susan Eppy; Treasurer, Vicki Hiratsuka; Group Presidents, Heather Hunter and Elizabeth Anderson.

These girls with the help of their leaders will have the responsibility of planning for the group and overseeing the implementation and evaluation of their plans.

As part of National CGIT

Week celebrations, the girls will be selling Advent Calendars in the Grandin Mall on Saturday, October 21. These will be $1.25 each. The proceeds will go to support the CGIT camp, Camp WOHELO (Worship, Health and Love) at Pigeon Lake. This is one of two camps in Canada which is owned and operated by CGIT. We are very proud of it. Four of our girls attended Camp WOHELO this summer, one being on Camp Council, a very special event for a senior girl.

The CGIT girls and their leaders will assist in the church service Sunday morning October 22 at St. Albert United Church at 10 a.m.

Another activity the girls will participate in is a city-wide CGIT Rally. This is being planned by the girls who attended Camp Council. Planning is a very important part of their leadership training. The girls and their resource councillors use the DARTE process to help them. (Define Alternatives Resources, Time Evaluation)

CGIT meetings are Tuesday 7:15 - 9 p.m. in the lower church hall. We would welcome any girls (12 - 17 years old) who are interested in finding out about our program.

The meaning of the living words that come out of the experiences of great hearts, can never be exhausted by any one system of logical interpretation. They have to be endlessly explained by the commentaries of individual lives.

HISTORY NEEDS PROTECTION

Mr. Graff stated that although there had not been a great public outcry in the surveys for protection of historical resources, the city still has a responsibility in this direction. "St. Albert is one of three key historic places in Alberta," he said. "Can volunteers be asked to bear this burden? Perhaps we could hire people in this area."

Ald. Smith concurred with the recommendations regarding historical resources and suggested "the responsibility might be too much for us."

Mr. Graff added that if historical resources are neglected, they cannot be recovered. "A museum is a quiet kind of thing which doesn't get a lot of enthusiasm. But if we don't protect these things, we'll feel guilty in 10 years time," he remarked.

Continuing the discussion of personnel needs, Mr. Graff said that visual arts programs have had a successful history here, but that there is a "real problem" with the performing arts. He stated that expertise is crucial in areas such as dance, as there were dangers in having volunteers teach this kind of activity. Volunteers could inadvertently cause damage to the feet and posture of young dancers.

DISCUSS NEED FOR FACILITIES

The question of new facilities prompted some questioning from members of council. Ald. Smith asked if the committee had examined existing facilities, and if people might be unaware of recently built facilities. Mr. Graff responded that lack of awareness was not the real problem, and that there was a genuine need for such things as a theatre. He commented that St. Albert had no active theatre group for this reason, while other communities had thriving theatrical troupes. He commented that even enthusiastic participants got tired of coping with inadequate facilities which don't meet the needs of the activities.

In response to a question from Mrs. Smith regarding private funding of facilities, Mr. Graff said that both private and public funding are desirable, but that it is up to government to take the first step.

Ald. Rod Thronson asked if there was any way that cultural facilities could break even on operational costs if the city picked up the tab for capital expenditures. However, Mr. Graff said there was "no magic answer" for this. "It's the same situations as exists with education and school facilities," he remarked.

The future role of the St. Albert Arts and Crafts Guild concerned Ald. Liesbeth Bakker. Mr. Graff said the Guild was not the answer to all visual arts needs, but added the Guild should not be separate from other such programs.

"We have to have a progressive pyramid with both emerging professionals and amateurs," he stated.

PROGRAMS AND PERSONNEL FIRST

Ald. Shields agreed with a suggestion from Ald. Breadner that the committee and council should meet again on an informal basis to discuss the report. He also asked if the committee had addressed itself to program needs. He was told this had been done, and that the first steps to be taken were the acquisition of manpower and the development of programs. Facilities could come next he said. However, he stressed that the provision of facilities must not be put off once people and programs were in place, as interest would fall off if the facilities were not forthcoming.

Mayor Ronald Harvey was emphatic in his support of an improved cultural climate in St. Albert. He said facilities such as the Paul Kane Theatre Arts room were unsatisfactory for certain community use and pointed out that the city had fallen behind in cultural matters.

In deciding their response to the report, aldermen expressed a wish for further meetings and more information on costs. It was decided that the report would be placed on the agenda for the next council meeting, so council could determine a method for studying it. City staff will prepare various models for discussion based on the report's recommendations.

A copy of the report will be available at the Library.

Handicapped group seeks secretary

The St. Albert Association for the Handicapped is soon to mark an anniversary. It was November 1, 1977 that an interested group of about 25 persons met at Sir Alexander Mackenzie School to discuss the needs of disabled persons within our community.

A Steering Committee was set up and Mrs. E. Rogers was appointed as chairperson. Mr. Ron Yeats was appointed to chair a Committee on Leisure and Recreation. During the winter months bylaws were developed and the membership of the Steering Committee was expanded.

The bylaws were adopted at a general meeting held in June, 1978 and the members of the Steering Committee were elected as the Interim Executive of the Association. Four directors-at-large were also elected to the Board. In the planning stages now are a membership drive and at some time in the near future a fund raising drive.

Some of the concerns of the Association are to acquaint the community at large with the special needs of persons who are handicapped, and the additional pressures this often places on their families. Transportation, education, relief care, vocational programming, as well as recreational and leisure skills and programs are the areas that will be focussed on.

The Association works closely with St. Albert Community Services and appreciates the tremendous co-operation they have had from the staff there.

What is urgently needed is more help in the way of interested persons who are willing to donate some time to committee work. A general planning meeting is being held at 34 Andrew Crescent on October 19, at 9:30 a.m.

The Association requires someone who is prepared to perform the secretarial duties for the next six months ... or longer. If you have special needs OR would like to assist the group through volunteer effort please call 459-5788 or 458-6394.

Firm appointed to study Big Lake area

At its regular meeting Monday, city council moved to appoint MTB Associates to complete a study of the Big Lake area using criteria submitted by the firm. The study will analyze information related to topography, land use water table and recommend a recreation zone. The needs of city's residents will be identified and a program of uses and facilities recommended. MTB will liaise with the other consulting firm which will be retained to study the rodeo-exhibition area. Long range requirements will be assessed and a master plan for the whole area drawn up.

A motion by Ald. Bakker which provides for increased citizen participation was carried. The motion states that any Development Control Resolution should be put through the same public participation process before its adoption as is required for an amendment to the zoning bylaw. These lands will be signed and advertised, with a public hearing on the resolution.

Tenders for the city's supply of fuel and oil were awarded to two different companies. The gas and diesel fuel contract for 1978-79 went to Pacific Petroleum Ltd., while the contract for the city's grease and oil needs for the same period was awarded to Gulf Canada Ltd. Both were lowest tenders.

The bylaw to amend the Community Services Advisory Board passed first, second and third readings. (see story this issue).

Acting on recommendation from Committee of the Whole, council resolved to "convey to the Prime Minister its strong opposition to the rescinding of the Public Utilities Income Tax Act. (see story this issue).

CRITICAL PATH

to a building that communicates

When is a building ready to occupy? When it's ready to communicate. Tenants today want instant telephone service. Take, for example, such critical requirements as underground service entrances, terminal and equipment rooms, riser and distribution systems; and the related conduit, panels, closets and ducts. They have as strong a claim on your Critical Path Method deadlines as the plumbing. Avoid costly delays and post-construction alterations. The communications specialists at BICS (AGT's Building Industry Consulting Service) will be happy to discuss the integration of these facilities in your construction schedule. Include BICS in your bids. The consultation costs nothing; but the savings that result can be considerable.

Work with the BICS preplanning and scheduling service for the kind of telephone service tenants expect.

CSAB bylaw amended

City council addressed itself to the question of public participation last Tuesday night at their committee of the whole meeting and came up with several amendments to the Community Services Advisory Board bylaw. Committee members heard first from Mr. Gerry Jaycocks of the CSAB, who reported on a number of the board's projects and concerns.

Mr. Jaycocks told members of the committee that reports would be forthcoming on Two Wheeled Vehicles and the Ad Hoc Cultural Committee. However, he said that the board could not "come to terms" with the recommendations of the ad hoc committee on civic grants. He suggested that grant requests be proceeded with, using the same criteria as last year. He added that perhaps council might prefer to have a new CSAB examine this as the present board's term expires shortly.

Following Mr. Jaycocks' presentation, Ald. Shields presented the recommendations of the Committee of Public Participation. This committee, comprised of Ald. Bakker, Ald. Shields and City Administrator Bob Byron, met with the CSAB to discuss with them how the board could operate more effectively. As a result of these meetings, Mrs. Bakker drafted several resolutions designed to make the CSAB more effective.

The amendments, which all were carried, provide for an increase in membership from five to seven. This was done to alleviate the heavy work load carried by the present board. In future, all members will be obliged to vote on all matters coming before the board, and the board chairman or his delegate will report to council's Committee of the Whole when necessary. Council will meet with the board at least once a year. A further amendment stated that "while considering the desirability of some continuity of membership, council will continue to appoint board members annually for a one-year term."

The Committee on Public Participation rejected a request from the board that would have a member of the board included amongst the committee that interviews board applicants. The interviewing committee will continue to be comprised of council members only. The deputy-mayor will attend CSAB meetings.

The existing board is to continue the processing of applications for 1978-79 civic grants.

No. 533 RC(Air)C Squadron St. Albert

Classes are well in progress at the Squadron with full contingents in all areas.

In its second week of practice the Band is already beginning to take shape. Many cadets have remained from previous years as well as having several new cadets trying out. There are 32 positions in the Band, so, unfortunately, all cadets who want to be in can not be. Once, again, this year, Major Maybee, squadron commanding officer, is putting the Band through their paces, as Band instructor.

Both Jr. and Sr. Drill teams are into general practices and with so many cadets trying out, it is a process of elimination at this point. Once a cadet with the Squadron OC Armstrong obtained the rank of WO1 and is now Asst. Training Officer as well as Drill Instructor. For the past three summers he has taught drill at Senior Leaders, Cold Lake, last summer being a co-ordinator of the course. OC Armstrong is extremely capable and well qualified.

Information on joining Air Cadets can be obtained at the Community Hall Thursday evenings, at 0700 PM.

Rudolf the Pocket Size Bear goes to town

Riding down the highway is great fun for a bear on a sunny Saturday. "Maybe not for the driver who needs at least six eyes," thought Rudolf, as the car eased its way through the weekend shoppers, all determined to get there fast.

"They rush downtown," pondered Rudolf, "and then they all rush back!"

Soon, it was round a circle, east a bit, sharp right-aways, and east again until the car pulled into the music store yard.

Rudolf's heart thumped hard as he saw rows of beautiful guitars, and amplifiers and electric pianos, and then "oh my!" There in a special room were lots and lots of drums all set up and asking to be tried. He just had to go and see for himself. Chuck, the shop man, was busy on the phone and Gordon was selling a guitar to a young lady, so Rudolf slipped off into the drum haven.

Beautiful big bass drums, all lovely colors. Snare drums, cymbal stands, drum sticks, and just everything to make a bear happy. Rudolf tapped a large silver tom tom he found lying on its side under a shelf. He was a little scared at the big sound it made, but soon gained confidence, and went around trying everything he could reach to find out what kind of sounds he could make.

A pile of cymbals were stacked up neatly, and Rudolf put up a paw to feel. With a loud sliding clanging sound, the cymbals shattered down and he found himself clutching a drum stick and wearing a cymbal on his head. "Oh dear, I did something!" squeaked Rudolf, feeling very ashamed.

Earl came by from the office to discover what the noise was about. He was puzzled how the cymbals could have fallen down with no one there. Rudolf was hiding behind a big silver drum by this time and could see Earl's big feet going to and fro as he cleared up the mess.

How to escape without being seen! Luckily, he saw his chance, and quickly climbed up into his pocket, squirming way down deep so that only his two eyes peeped out.

Education and child crime

"Educate a man's mind and not his morals and you create a menace." That statement was made by Theodore Roosevelt 75 years ago.

Our schools have done a pretty good job of it. Isn't it time to do a better educating job of morals?

People understand that you don't teach music by ignoring its principle, harmony. Neither do you teach the science of numbers by ignoring its principle, mathematics. So why do you think academics can be taught by ignoring its principle, ethics.

Health, Education and Welfare was warned several years ago that all skills and no ethics makes Johnny a dangerous boy. That made no difference to the federal government.

They put in an excellent printing class at Nova High School in Fort Lauderdale, sent in an excellent instructor, but in less than a year, the police traced to the Nova printing class the forms that had been printed for car thieves to transfer stolen cars from out of state and in state!

Now, three boys of Nova High School are criminals.

Historic college becomes U of A's newest faculty

Faculte Saint-Jean, formerly College Universitaire Saint-Jean, is the University of Alberta's newest faculty. Prompted by a report from the Academic Development Committee, General Faculties Council on March 6, 1978, approved the name change to Faculte Saint-Jean. The University's Board of Governors on May 5, 1978 approved the name change providing official recognition of the University's newest Faculty.

Faculte Saint-Jean is unique in that courses are instructed almost totally in the French language. The Faculte differs from other Faculties at the University in its lack of academic specialization. There is no one academic discipline studied at the Faculte. Instead, courses leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Sciences, and Bachelor of Education are offered. The Faculte does not have a graduate student program.

Although Faculte Saint-Jean is the University's newest facility it is by no means a recent creation. Founded in 1908 by Father Henry Grandin, Vicar of the Missions of Alberta-Saskatchewan, the Faculte had its beginning in Pincher Creek as a Juniorate of the Oblate Order, a seminary where future priests came to receive instruction. Because growth in this remote area seemed impossible, the Juniorate was re-established in Edmonton in 1910. In a house situated very close to the rectory of Saint-Joachim's, three Oblate instructors and 11 students carried on classes. But again, this location was only temporary. The next year was a memorable one for the Juniorate for it was moved to its present location on Strathcona Hill. Here the Faculte continued as a Juniorate until 1943. In 1941, the Jesuite College, a minor seminary that had previously offered French language instruction, was closed. Prompted by this, the Oblate Fathers opened their doors in 1943 to western students so that they might receive secondary and post-secondary instruction in French. The Faculte was modeled after a Quebec style classical college and was re-named College Saint-Jean.

Since 1943, the Faculte has seen a gradual evolution of its functions. The secondary school aspect of its operations was transferred to the Edmonton Separate School Board in 1972 and the post-secondary aspect was integrated with the University of Alberta in 1970. The College was renamed College Universitaire Saint-Jean in keeping with this integration -- no longer to be considered an affiliated college. Then in 1976, increased costs of administration and lack of public funds led to the sale of the College to the provincial government and the subsequent transfer of title to the University of Alberta.

The name change also represents a significant mark in the historical evolution of the institution - from a minor seminary to a bilingual and bicultural centre for higher learning. Today Faculte Saint-Jean has an enrolment of approximately 190 students. About 25 percent of these students live in the residence at the Faculte. Last year 17 of the Faculte's 18 BEd graduates were placed in French language teaching positions throughout Alberta. The Dean of the Faculte, Frank McMahon, says that there is a real demand for bilingual teachers in the school systems. He also says that it is important to get across to young people the opportunities that a bilingual education affords them, especially to those considering careers in the federal public service.

Enterprise: discovering a teen community

There are several ways in which adults can achieve a feeling of community -- shared neighbourhoods, clubs, political views and business interests. However for the teen-ager, a sense of community with his fellows is more elusive. Caught between the chumminess of childhood and the fraternity of adults, teens often share only one attitude -- a sense of isolation. The results of this alienated feeling take many forms, from mild apathy to outright hostility.

St. Albert, like many other communities, has its share of bored or disaffected teens, but something is on the horizon which may alter the pattern of teen life here. That something is Enterprise.

Enterprise is a newly conceived program which gives teens an opportunity to influence the way they live in St. Albert. In fact, it will resemble a small government -- of the teens, by the teens and for the teens. With some adult consultation, teens here will be shown how their scattered numbers could evolve into a closely knit, productive community.

However, such a community does not spring fully formed out of a government file folder. The nature of it depends to a large extent on the teens themselves. Each district, such as Grandin, Mission etc., will form a teen association, as a grass roots organization. The teens in each association will determine what programs would be of value or interest to their members. Social, recreational and cultural programs might be established, or counselling and employment services begun. Whatever the teens choose, assistance will be given them to find the contacts and resource people they require.

This guidance will initially come from a trio of Enterprise youth workers who have been hired for the purpose, through the Canada Works program. They are now working with city youth worker Brian Leonard. The Canada Works grant is for $23,700 which covers salaries for one year. Operating expenses are not included and it is hoped that a small budget will be granted by the city.

TEEN COUNCIL PLANNED

Decisions regarding the entire teen community will be made by a teen council. It will be composed of one representative from each district association, and will function under the proper rules of order. A number of teens will fill other governing positions needed to carry out the work of the council. The teens will be responsible for obtaining part of their own financing, through various fund raising activities. It is hoped the teens will establish a good working relationship with the business and professional community, and it is anticipated that Enterprise will cut down on the number of requests for donations made to local merchants. Under the new system, the teens would appeal to businessmen only once a year. Businessmen who do further the teen efforts will receive a plaque commending their civic spirit.

The Enterprise youth workers will have offices at two locations, with two in the Teen Centre and one at Community Services. All three of the workers have been involved previously in programs for youngsters. Jim Miller, an Edmonton resident, has joined in the effort to replace the Hovel coffeehouse and has worked on the STOP conversation program. He is a Victoria Composite graduate. Lynn Passay, also of Edmonton, has worked with youngsters in recreation and is a graduate of the University of Waterloo. Shawn O'Connor is a Phs. Ed. graduate from the University of New Brunswick. He has worked with Boys and Girls clubs and on Opportunities for Youth projects.

The whole emphasis of Enterprise is on the development of teen potential, and the forming of cohesive teen community. However, the program is based on doing, not on passive participation. The teens will be the moving force in the program's direction. They will decide programs and discuss their financing. Older teens will work with younger ones and parents can give invaluable assistance. The whole system will reflect the adult system, but will have teen-aged motivation.

Enterprise should be ready to go by January 1, and its basic format will be presented to the schools next week. From then on, it will be up to the teens to put this innovative idea into action.

New faculty

Another, smaller building is being erected between the Windsor Car Park and the Industrial and Vocational Education Building in the northwest area of the campus. The 2,400 square foot prefabricated temporary building will house the provincial government's Coal Mining Research Group, which is associated with the Faculty of Engineering. The building, which will match the Industrial and Vocational Education Building in color and materials, is expected to be finished by January. The Research Group likely will be housed there for three to six years.

EDITOR - VICKY KNIGHT

Moby Dick

Rice production just a fish story

By Vicky Knight

The timeless tale of Moby Dick has all the elements to spellbind -- constant danger, a fatal obsession, supernatural forces, natural forces, two awesome antagonists, even a child in peril. As Herman Melville told it, it was the ultimate power struggle. As Orson Welles and Randy Maertz tell it at the Rice Theatre, it is a mere skirmish.

Director Maertz cannot be blamed overmuch for the production's failures. The play itself is fatally flawed. Welles has written what amounts to a theatrical curiosity, an intellectual exercise. It might serve some purpose as a lesson for aspiring playwrights -- to be taught under the heading of "interesting ideas that didn't work."

Welles' play depicts a rehearsal of Moby Dick by a justifiably reluctant theatrical troupe, headed up by a domineering actor of the bravura school. Welles' reasoning in employing the rehearsal device is obscure. The only plausible motive I can see is that the actors' disparaging comments serve as an apology for the obvious inadequacies of the stage as a vehicle for Moby Dick. The whole idea is a conceit.

The problem goes to the essence of the story. The tale deals with that most basic of conflicts: man vs. nature. Here is the root of the play's imbalance. It's impossible to produce such a struggle believably with one of the contestants missing. Thus, we are treated to two acts of an immensely forceful, dominant man and we are asked to believe that this awesome individual is defeated by a force which we can only assume is present. We experience Ahab, he is there in the flesh. The whale, the wind and the water are mere abstracts. As a result, Ahab's defeat lacks credibility.

The special effects people tried their damndest to convince us that the storm and the whale were an unbeatable menace. Synthesizers moaned, the wind howled, lightning flashed. However, Welles undermines their stalwart efforts by calling for the presence of technical people in the play. This serves only to make the natural forces more abstract and artificial, and Ahab's defeat more hollow.

As Ahab, Brendan Barry had all the force of a force nine gale. His amazing voice roars and snaps like the thunder, and can change to be as subdued as the sea before the storm. The agony of Ahab is tragically apparent when Barry admits to Starbuck "you've drilled down deep and blasted reason put of me." The language of the play is magnificent and as the old-school actor, Barry gives it life in a way seldom seen by contemporary audiences.

I liked Richard Farrell's handling of the Starbuck role. Wisely decided not to turn the scenes between Starbuck and Ahab into a roaring contest, Farrell opted for a controlled Starbuck. He is a man of reason and compassion, who feels sympathy for Ahab's obsession, but who is powerless to arrest it. The rational meets the irrational, and knows when he is beaten. However, it is his inner tranquility that allows Starbuck to reach into Ahab's tormented soul, for one brief interval. Ahab is momentarily becalmed by Starbuck's quiet certainty.

The role of Ishmael is an element of the story which might have pulled some of the confusion together, but Allan Habberfield's interpretation lacked the strength to do it.

Ishmael is a man with memories of events primeval beyond most human experience. However, I had no feeling that Habberfield's character was a man seared by these horrific events. His reading of Ishmael's potent and poetic lines put too much emphasis on the poetry and too little on the power. At times, I had difficulty hearing him.

The use of the ladder as the whaleboat fascinatingly effective, but such scant properties require extra work by the actors. In the scene where the crew is straining to row, I only saw a few straining muscles, and got little feeling of the implacable currents working against the tiny boat. Hands on the oars did not grip and in some cases they looked downright limp.

Moby Dick Rehearsed is an interesting concept, but for theoretical purposes only. Putting this epic tale on the stage is comparable to a recent attempt at adapting Edgar Allan Poe's "The Raven" for the movies -- it just won't play.

Death to Whiteness!

Captain Ahab (Brendan Barry) roars his defiance of his leviathan foe while his crew stands paralyzed by the catastrophic events which threaten. The play is Moby Dick Rehearsed, by Orson Welles now playing at the Rice Theatre. Despite heroic efforts, the play fails, done in by its own eccentricities.

with Simon from tape recorder owners,
In the past few weeks I have received phone calls whose machines are seemingly faulty or damaged. In most cases, the calls came as a last resort, especially after the repairmen confirmed that there was absolutely nothing wrong with the units.

To begin with, most modern tape recording units are well built, quality controlled, and should perform flawlessly for years .. if certain precautions are taken. Alas, most users tend to forget that recorders must be cleaned and serviced regularly to guarantee their longevity and good performance. So, the question is, what does the user do to keep his machine in good condition? Well, here are some suggestions.

(a) Clean the tape heads regularly with the recommended cleaning fluid. If this is not available, denatured alcohol could be utilized. Cotton swabs, (Q-tips) are especially invaluable for this job. The tape guides and rubber rollers (on capstans) should not be forgotten either. Excess fluid should be dried off, using clean cotton swabs. Then ...

(b) Get a tape head demagnetizer (most hi-fi shops sell them), plug it into the wall socket, and depress the "on" button. You should hear a slight hum when this is done; then slowly and carefully bring the demagnetizer near the "heads" and the guides and the capstan (you should feel a slight pull), and making slow circular motions, gradually withdraw the unit from the tape until you are about three feet away, then switch off, special tape recorder oil, or light machine oil, and make sure to wipe off excess fluid.

(d) Get a small blower and carefully blow away excessive accumulation of dust. This normally forms on the face plate, top and rear of the unit. Especially force air through the back ventilator when the unit is on. This procedure helps the internal cooling fan to blow out interior dust.

(e) Even if you are not a Whatever you do, do not let the demagnetizer touch the tape heads, as this results in worse problems than before.

(c) Look into the "Owners Manual" and see if there are any oiling points on your recorder. If there are, use heavy user, it helps to run your machine every day, if only to activate the "fast forward" or "rewind" buttons. If possible "play" it for a few minutes. This is of special advantage to recorders with rubber pulley belts. Unused rubber belts tend to "set" to a pattern, and this might result in excessive "wow," or worse, a visit to the service department.

(f) Always use good quality cassettes or tapes for your machines. The leader on most of them contains special tape head cleaner.

(g) Never place your recorder near heaters, and for AC-DC units, in direct sunlight. Humidity and steamy coffee cups near it won't help either, and conclusively, covering up the unit after use keeps it looking clean and new.

LOCAL STREET LESSONS AVAILABLE

JOHN LACEY-PEDAL STEEL GUITARIST OF NOTE

I had the pleasure of meeting John Lacey on Monday, over at Panich Music. John is originally from the Toronto area and has played with Sylvia Tyson and Jerry Palmer. (You might remember Jerry's #1 hit, "One Way Ticket To A Lady.")

John has taken up residence in St. Albert, and in addition to playing different spots, he is deeply involved in giving pedal steel guitar lessons, through Panich Music. So far, his youngest pupil is 22 and his oldest is 58. They have a number of pedals on display as well as parts and books...everything you need to become a Sneaky Pete.

A couple of weeks back, John played with Joyce Smith in the Bruin Inn. He is also presently doing some session work, but you'll hear more about that after I hear the demos. John has also contributed some of his talent on singles by Bill Hirsch and Blue Train, Eddie Twill and Neil Campbell. Welcome to St. Albert John and Normal!

A REAL PANICH!

Laverne Panich dropped a hint that they are working on something for the November 11 weekend along the lines of a country festival. I'm sure it'll be something to remember, as a number of fine musicians are expected to participate.

Laverne's Band, Rusty Nail, overwhelmed the people in Legal last weekend and were called back a number of times. The Rusty Nail consists of Laverne Panich on piano, organ, synthesizer, guitar and I must not forget...the accordion; Bob Panich on guitar and banjo; Brian Sorgie on bass and Paul Gondziola on drums. They all sing as well. They have a number of upcoming dates in and around the MD of Sturgeon, including the City of St. Albert Christmas Party.

Check out the mysteries at the library

Have you ever wondered whether there were any exciting alternatives to Nancy Drew and Hardy Boy books? They are several series of such books at the St. Albert Public Library.

The "Encyclopedia Brown Books," by Donald J. Sobol, are great favorites of children in the seven to 11 age group. The short, simple, mysteries give the reader a chance to test his or her detective skills. Encyclopedia Brown gives the correct answer at the end of each mystery and the reader guesses how he arrived at the solution. The correct answers are listed at the back of the book.

John D. Fitzgerald, author of an exciting series known as the "Great Brain Books," has based his books on his own childhood experiences with a conniving elder brother named Tom. These books will probably appeal to children aged 10 and older.

There is also a good selection of Scott Corbett's books. These are high suspense and adventure tales written for kids from 10 and up.

For the younger children there are mystery books in the "I can read" series. These books are primarily for beginning readers and remedial reading. These can be found in the 'E' section under the author section beginning with 'B' in the children's area.

Remember, if you require assistance in finding these books, don't hesitate to ask the librarian.

A NOTE ON B.B. KING

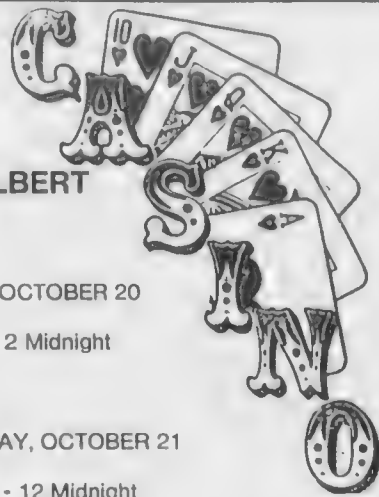

What was B.B. King before he found music? A cottonpicker, and as he tells it, a very good cottonpicker, picking as much as 500 pounds of cotton in a nine hour day. He remembers clearly the 35¢ he earned for picking a hundred pounds of cotton. While B.B. King may not be remembered for picking cotton, he is renown the world over for picking his guitar.

Northern Light reports fall line-up

Northern Light Theatre will open its 1978-79 season of lunch-hour and weekend evening shows on October 26 with a phenomenal new musical, to be followed in December by some crazed and sophisticated high comedy.

The season-opener in the Art Gallery Theatre is the musical sensation Piaf: Her Songs, Her Loves. The December offering is Bernard Shaw's devilish Overruled.

Northern Light Theatre's season opener is Piaf: Her Songs, Her Loves (October 26 - November 19) is based in the smash-hit production that was twice held-over at Vancouver's City Stage this past summer. Artistic Director Scott Swan gives it an entirely new staging, starring Kathy Michael McGlynn as Edith Piaf, the fiery French songstress whose rise from the gutters of Paris to centrestage of the world's adoration was chronicled in songs of great courage and passion. The Piaf musical will run for three weeks, Tuesday through Friday at 12 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday at 7:30 p.m. The play lasts two hours.

Joining Kathy Michael McGlynn for this spectacular season-opener are Mel Eriksen and Hank Stinson, with Sylvia Maltby on the concert-grand. Musical director is Angela Genn and Stage Manager is Pam Chappell. Allan Stichbury's set design encompasses the entire theatre and will be a delightful surprise to returning audiences.

Bernard Shaw's Overruled (December 7 - 30) is an elegant little theatrical chamber-piece for four - played fortissimo and in double-time! The romantic politicking of two shipboard couples becomes hopelessly and hilariously confused when the British passion for propriety overrules sundry minor lusts. This is one of the most ingeniously inane of Shaw's one-act comedies, and C. Holte Davidson returns to Northern Light to direct in the same sure and stylish manner he did last season's A Phoenix Too Fre-

Barry Morse to appear at Citadel

Artistic Director, Peter Coe, has announced that internationally known performer Barry Morse will star with Glynis Johns in the Citadel's production of Cause Celebre opening in the Shector Theatre, January 17, 1979.

Over a forty year span, Mr. Morse has portrayed more than 3,000 roles in theatre, films, T.V. and radio with a career that began to blossom at age 15 when he won the men's competition for a scholarship to the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts in London - at that time, the youngest ever to enter the Academy. After his two year study, he played the title role in Henry V which was presented to King George VI and Queen Elizabeth in honour of their coronation.

During his career, he has appeared in nearly 30 motion pictures in England and the United States - the most recent being "Running Scared" and "Assum." He is also well remembered as Lt. Gerrard in the television series "The Fugitive" playing opposite David Janssen and has appeared in ABC's "Our Man Flint."

Barry stars as O'Connor in the late Sir Terence Rattigan's Cause Celebre, based on a real-life murder trial, the hard hitting drama of a lovely, restless woman, caught in a marriage to a man many years her senior.

MR. AND MRS. PHILIPPE MORIN

Philippe Morins mark fiftieth anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Philippe Morin celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary on October 14. Their children, grandchildren, brother, sisters, nieces, nephews and numerous friends gathered in St. Albert to celebrate the occasion.

The celebrations began with an afternoon reception followed by a Mass in the St. Albert Roman Catholic Church, a banquet and an evening reception at the Club Mocombo. The Mass was celebrated by Reverend Father Thomas Bilodeau, OMI, a nephew of Mrs. Morin. The singing was conducted by Sr. Aline Prince, S.A.S.V., a former member of the St. Albert church parochial team and a friend of the family. The words of welcome were sent by Henriette, the eldest of the children, who could not be present due to her work in South America. The children and grandchildren took a very active part in the Mass and in the celebration as a whole.

Special guests included Mr. Morin's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Coatta, from Vancouver and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kearns of Toronto, long-time friends of the family.

Congratulatory messages were received from the Pope, from the various levels of government and from relatives and friends who were unable to attend.

After their marriage in 1928, Philippe and Clara (nee Bilodeau) made their home in Edmonton until 1939 when they bought a farm east of St. Albert. Philippe worked 45 years at the Northern Alberta Railway during which time he also farmed his land. In 1959, they moved to St. Albert where they still make their home.

Eight children were born of this union: Henriette, a sister in the congregation of the Filles de Jesus who is now working in Villavicencio, Columbia, South America, Marcel and Emile both of Calgary, Lucille (Mrs. George Victor) of Pickardville, Marie (Mrs. Herman Jarmin) of Fenn (Alberta), Justine (Mrs. Mitchell Martyna) of Calgary, Madeleine (Mrs. Normand St. Louis) of Pickardville, and Louise (Mrs. Marcel Lavallee) of Edmonton. They have 39 grandchildren and one great-grandson.

The happy couple and their children thank all those who offered their best wishes on this occasion.

City staff to study passes for Seniors

The idea of a pass for Senior Citizens which would grant them admission to city facilities will be studied by city staff, council decided last Tuesday night.

The matter was raised by City Administrator Robert Byron, who said it had been suggested to him. Members of council said they saw merit in the idea and that it should

Seniors bowling Seniors bowled over by hospitality in southern centres

St. Albert's Senior bowlers weren't able to match last year's winning ways on their weekend trip to Red Deer and Calgary, but they were royally entertained at both centres and certainly had a great time.

Following the non-competitive game at Red Deer the Senior Lady Bowlers league hosted them to a luncheon before they boarded the bus again for Calgary, arriving at 7 p.m. at Calgary Inn. Everybody spent the evening as they wished, from sightseeing to playing cards to getting in on some dancing through a club affiliation of some of the members.

Everyone was at the lanes for the 9:30 game, which was followed by a luncheon provided by the Chinook Senior Citizens. Then it was back to the bowls, with Calgary emerging the aggregate winner on 17,354 points. St. Albert chalked up 15,526 points. However Dan Richardson won the Hidden Score prize and other moments were won by Rose Cuomo, Louise Borle and Maurice Bourgeois. The local bowlers were joined on the trip by five seniors from Coral Bowl, and one of these, Kay Stratynski, was the high scorer in Calgary. Then it was time to hit the road again.

Thanks to singing leader, Pauline Atkinson, with mike in hand, and St. Albert Senior's own "Court Jester" Maude Sinclair, the long bus ride never had a dull moment. Maude's antic kept everyone in stitches - she is only 82, and Pauline had the whole bus joining in their favorite songs. The Seniors let Betty Stephen and Florence Patrick of Grandin Bowling lanes know how much they appreciated their organizing of all the arrangements for transportation meals and accommodation.

Later in the month the St. Albert group is looking forward to playing host to Calgary Senior bowlers who will be in Edmonton on October 28 and St. Albert, October 29.

The club has recently welcomed back Louise and Ed Borle from the Maritimes, Lily Millar from England and Bernadette Morin from a visit to the Holy Land. Members are also looking forward to having Juliette Lema, Bill Zoltenko, John Cunningham and Pat Brock safely home from hospital soon.

Meanwhile the dance coming up Friday night is a sell-out and the seniors are considering holding a spring dance as well, since the four fall dances have proved so popular, attracting many district people as well as the local oldsters.

Dorothy Newman reports that any women who like to knit or crochet are warmly invited to come along and help with preparations for the November 4 bazaar, which will be held from 1-4 p.m. Work on bazaar articles is going forward at the Centre every Wednesday at one o'clock and anyone interested is invited to phone Dorothy at 458-2457.

District items

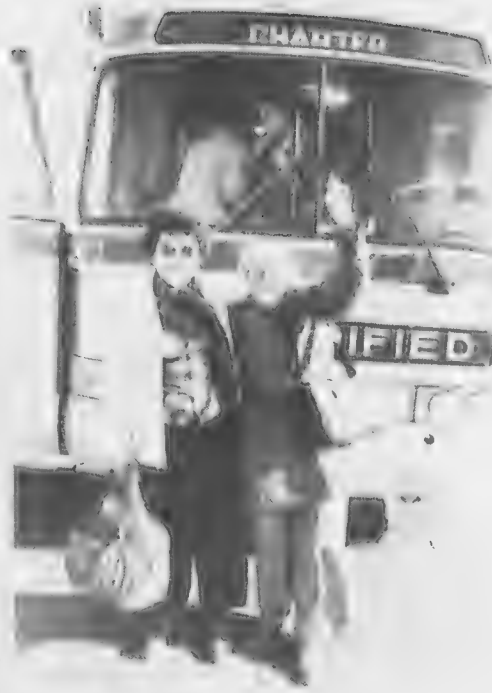

The Golden Gems in Bon Accord are presently accepting orders for their annual "Christmas Baking" project, which helps out busy housewives and enables the seniors to get wanted equipment for their centre. The project was started about three years ago when the goal was to help get a centre and nets around $200-$300.

Members of the Last Round-Up in Gibbons have resumed bowling at Lancaster Park, where shoes may be rented and the charge is 40¢ per game. The new Dew Drop Inn centre now boasts a full-length mirror, proceeds of the club's afghan raffle.

Senior choirs thrill audience

The festival of Senior Citizens choirs and musicians held last Thursday drew a capacity audience, nearly all seniors at the Jubilee Auditorium, and from the opening by Calgary Music Makers to the grande finale of mass choirs which featured over four hundred seniors on stage, the festival held everyone thoroughly enchanted. M.C. Neil Martin announced that there were 660 visitors from out of town, with many bus loads of older people coming from all directions. The Festival of Song and Sound was sponsored by the Commonwealth city Singers, bringing together choirs from across Western Canada. Performers ranged in age from 65 - 93 and looked smashing in their gowns and tuxedos.

The Penticton Choir has a seniors orchestra component, and their presentation included a fiddler's medley. Variety was also added by dancing, including a sailors hornpipe and Mexican dance.

Those who missed this tremendous four-hour show might plan to attend the next one, to be held in Winnipeg in 1979.

CFRN will present excerpts from the program during November on their Time of Your Life show.

Sod turning for Seniors complex

Sod turning ceremonies for the Seniors Lodge Apartment complex in St. Albert will be held this Friday, October 20 at two o'clock at the site on the Sturgeon River bank at Mission Avenue and Perron Street.

MLA Ernie Jamison and Mayor Ron Harvey will officiate at the sod turning, and a luncheon has been

The Lodge will provide 44 beds for senior citizens and the apartment residence will contain 52 self-contained units.

All senior citizens and their friends are especially invited to attend this function.

St. Albert High Report

By Marilyn Joly
Students gathered in the gym last week to review the SAHS parking lot situation. A tentative agreement was achieved and was forwarded to the school board for consideration where it was accepted.

The Student Tour Group met last night to go over the itinerary of their trip to Spain scheduled for March. The

Sioux win V.G. cross country meet

Students in grades 4 through 7 participated in the school cross country run on October 5. This year each category was set up according to the year of birth of the runner. Each runner earned five points for their House and the first 25 place runners earned additional points.

The Sioux House was the eventual winner with 1306 points, followed by Apache 1202 points, Blackfoot 1051 points, and Comanche with 906 points.

The first 10 runners in each category went to the District Cross Country Meet at Lacombe Park the following Wednesday.

son. The tour program is designed to give students an opportunity to travel to Spain and visit selected areas that will provide substantial exposure to Spanish life and culture. Parents also attended this meeting so they too could become informed about the trip.

This past week was filled with sports activities. The girls' volleyball team played Paul Kane but was defeated three out of four games. Saturday, both the boys' and girls' team went to Morinville for a volleyball tournament. The teams played well but as there was excellent competition they didn't do as well as hoped.

Despite the crisp, cool, breeze on Thursday, the cross country race got underway. For the girls, the race consisted of two laps around the school grounds and for the boys, four laps. Finishing first in the girls' competition was Carmelle Kirsch and second was Marion Haas. First in the boys' was Paul Hoffart and second - Mike Solonynko. Winners travelled to Jasper to compete in Zone finals on Saturday. Congratulations to Mike for placing in the top 10 for the North Central Zone, he is now eligible for Provincials.

Les Tournesols begins fun-filled fall

"Les Tournesols" bilingual playschool fall program is well underway with Mme. F. Lefebvre as instructor.

The children were introduced to nutritious food snacks through a puppet show presented by the Sturgeon Health Unit. The art project for Thanksgiving was a "Stuffed Turkey" which ended with a turkey parade, when each child proudly presented his or her turkey.

Special visitors to the class were M. and Mme. M.

Vaugeois and M. and Mme. U. Franche from the senior citizens who were presented with a large fruit basket.

Thanks to mothers' volunteer help, our busy day was a success, and happily les enfants chantent "Tourne, Tourne, Tournesols."

Presently there is one opening in the Monday-Wednesday class, and children are accepted on a waiting list.

Vital Grandin and V.J. Maloney take cross country titles

Vital Grandin, for the fourth consecutive year, won the Elementary title while V.J. Maloney secured the Junior High laurels for the second year in succession at the St. Albert District Cross Country Meet. The Meet was held last Wednesday, October 11 at Lacombe Park involving all the schools in St. Albert with approximately 600 students participating.

In the Elementary Division, outstanding performances were seen in the nine years and under (born 1969, 1970) Division as Holly Lamsind and Eddie Lassey both from Sir Alexander Mackenzie won their respective races. Robert Rundle's 10 year old (born 1968) girls finished first, second and third with Tracy Irwin, Jenny Johnston and Kerry Morris burning up the track, in that order, for an excellent showing. Vital Grandin's Matthew Peskewis greatly outdistanced all other 10 year old boys to win his race.

The closest race of the Elementary Division was in the 11 and over (born 1967 and later) boys where Trent Van Lersberghe of Sir Alexander Mackenzie edged David Laplante of Vital Grandin for first place. In the girls division, Lauren Donnelly of Vital Grandin turned in an excellent time to win her race.

Elementary Age Category Winners: 9 yr. old (Born 1969, 1970) Girls - Sir Alexander Mackenzie; 9 yr. old (Born 1969, 1970) Boys - Vital Grandin; 10 yr. old (Born 1968) Girls - Vital Grandin; 10 yr. old (Born 1968) Boys - Vital Grandin; 11 & Over (Born 1967 & later) Girls - Sir George Simpson; 11 & Over (Born 1967 & later) Boys - Vital Grandin.

Overall Elementary Standings - Minimum Point Basis (The lowest score is the winner). Vital Grandin - 364; Sir Alexander Mackenzie - 629; Bertha Kennedy - 658; Robert Rundle - 848; Leo Nickerson - 880; Albert Lacombe - 944; Father Jan - 1299.

Some schools did not have participants in all age categories and their scores were: Sir George Simpson (one age group) - 131; Ronald Harvey (two age groups) - 558; W.D. Cuts (two age groups) - 770.

The biggest improvement was shown by Bertha Kennedy School. Although it is a relatively small school, having 103 students, they managed to place third out of 10 schools participating.

In the Junior High Division, the boys trio of Casey Wheatley, Allister Barteski and Andrew Kenny from V.G. placed first, second and third respectively in the 12 and under age group. A fine race by Lori Durst of Lorne Akins enabled her to take first place in the 12 and under girls.

Sir George Simpson placed first in both the boys and girls races of the 13 year olds. Tricia Connor and Tony Baller outdistanced their field to win.

Carol Burgess also of Sir George Simpson ran a steady race to place first in the 14 and over girls. The final race of the day and most gruelling was the boys 14 and over. Their race of 3000 metres was won by V.J. Maloney's outstanding athlete Rick Gray.

Junior High Age Category Winners: 12 and under girls (born 1966 and later) - Vital Grandin; 12 and under boys (born 1966 and later) - Vital Grandin; 13 year old girls (born 1965) - V.J. Maloney; 13 year old boys (born 1965) - Sir George Simpson; 14 and over girls (born 1964 and earlier) - Sir George Simpson; 14 and over boys (born 1964 and earlier) - V.J. Maloney.

Overall Junior High Standings: Minimum Point Basis - low score wins). V. J. Maloney - 272; Sir George Simpson - 336; Lorne Akins - 481; W.D. Cuts - 957; Vital Grandin (2 age groups) - 299; Father Jan (1 age group) - 378.

For a sport that requires both courage and stamina, congratulations to all participating students!

Voice of V.J.M.

By Cheryl Carliou

Hi once again! At V.J. Maloney our students council has been hard at work planning our Hallowe'en Dance for October 27, from 1:30 - 3:30. Admission will be 75¢ without a costume and 50¢ with one. Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes at the end of the dance.

We are having a raffle on a big jar of Smarties. Try to guess how many smarties are in the jar. Ten cents a guess or three for a quarter. Proceeds will go towards the hallowe'en dance.

Later on during the month of November we are having a Remembrance Day Mass which is based on the Theme for Peace. Poppies will be sold November 3.

Get your thinking caps on as exams will be written during the first week in November.

MARAUDERS UNDEFEATED

The regular season has come to an end, and the V.J.M. Marauders Soccer Team found themselves undefeated with a perfect 5-0 record. The Marauders defeated St. Marks 5-1; St. Paul's 9-0; Holy Cross 9-1; St. Rose 5-0; and St. Thomas More 5-0. The team now advances to the quarter finals of the Edmonton Separate School League.

The Marauders played host to St. Cecilia Tigers, perennial city champions, on Friday, October 13. The game was by far Maloney's toughest test with both teams showing tremendous soccer skills and fine team play. V.J.M. came away with a 3-0 win. Goal scorers for V.J.M. were Brent Yurkiw with 2, and Rick Gray with 1.

Best of luck in the playoffs!!!!

Women's Aglow comes to St. Albert

A chapter of Women's Aglow Fellowship has been formed in St. Albert, which will be holding its second monthly meeting on Thursday, October 19 in Club Mocombo at 7:30 p.m.

On this occasion Mrs. E. A. Francis will be their guest. She served for 12 years as a missionary in Kenya, along with her husband, also a missionary, and has now been back in Canada for 12 years. She is presently working as librarian at the Northwest Bible College in Edmonton, where her husband is president.

In addition to fellowship meetings on the third meeting of each month, Women's Aglow fosters bible study groups in the homes of members. The groups are non-denominational and membership is open to all interested women in St. Albert.

The movement, begun in 1967 in Portland, Oregon, has grown steadily and at present there are over 800 chapters around the world of this organization of charismatic women. It has an official magazine entitled Aglow featuring articles by women of many backgrounds denominations and walks of life.

The organization tying all groups together goes from chapter, to area board, to International Board, all of which come under an advisory board of charismatic pastors and ministers.

'Be Aglow and Burning with the Spirit from Romans 12:11 in the Amplified Bible gave the movement its name.

In St. Albert women of several churches are involved with the meetings and bible studies as the new chapter starts out, including the United, Roman Catholic, Presbyterian and Pentecostal

Executive members are President Doris Jobe; Vice President Chris Dobie; Recording Secretary Marie Berg and Treasurer and Correspondence Secretary Bonnie Stephen. These members will assist bible study groups in all areas of St. Albert to get started. Anyone interested may telephone Doris at 459-6552, Marie at 459-6742 or Bonnie at 458-0022.

One gives, one keeps

The Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea are made of the same water. It flows down, clear and cool, from the heights of Hermon and the roots of the cedars of Lebanon. The Sea of Galilee makes beauty of it, for the Sea of Galilee has an outlet. It gets to give. It gathers in its riches that it may pour them out again to fertilize the Jordan plain. But the Dead Sea with the same water makes horror. For the Dead Sea has no outlet. It gets to keep.

Harry Emerson Fosdick.

Jack Miner's philosophy

Jack Miner was a devout Christian but always said "he wasn't so religious that he wouldn't boil a tea kettle on Sunday." All those who ever heard him speak or read his three books know that he took his Conservation philosophy from the Bible. He would say, "Turn to Genesis and you will read: 'God created the heavens and earth and every creeping thing that creepeth upon it, the fish of the sea, the animals of the land and the birds of the air He createth He them.' It then reads that 'God then created man in His own image and the image of God createth He him and He said "Let man have dominion over all the fish of the sea, over the fowls of the air, over the cattle, and over the earth and every living thing that moveth upon the earth."

BIBLE TRANSLATION

William Cameron Townsend as a young man selling Spanish Bibles in Guatemala, was shaken when a Cachiuel Indian asked, "If your God is so great, why can't he speak my language?" Young Townsend settled in a Cachiuel community, learned their complex, unwritten language and set to work translating the New Testament. It was published 12 years later.

Realizing that he alone could not translate the Bible for all the language groups of Guatemala, much less the world, he set out to recruit a corps of linguists. Thus was born Wycliffe Bible Translators.

Since the first Wycliffe translators trained in 1934, the growing Wycliffe team has begun work in more than 600 languages in 29 countries. Fifty language groups now have the complete New Testament.

A bigger assignment looms. At least 5,687 languages are spoken throughout the earth and only a fourth have even a portion of God's Word. Most languages have never even been put into writing.

Today 200,000,000 people wait for the first verse of Scripture in their own language; what John Wycliffe said 600 years ago still applies: "Christ and His apostles taught the people in that tongue that was most known to the people. Why shouldn't men do so now?"

On April 19, 1967, in the Senate of the United States a Joint Resolution was made authorizing the President to issue a proclamation designating the 30th day of September as "Bible Translation Day" and inviting the governments of States and communities and the people of the United States to observe such day with appropriate ceremonies and activities.

September 30 was chosen because that is the day that the great Bible scholar, Jerome, died in 420 A.D. He had translated the Bible into Latin, the language of the common people of his day. His translation became the Bible of the Western church for the next thousand years.

He was the first who wanted to see the Scriptures made available for everybody ... and did something about it. He Cared.

IT'S COMING LOOK FOR IT!

What's coming, you may be asking? Each year the Minister of Agriculture, declares one week in October to be Agriculture Week. So this year October 22 - 28 will be Agriculture Week.

IS FOOD A REAL BARGAIN??

Not only is Alberta's food good -- and good for you -- it's a bargain! Some public officials and consumer advocates looking for a cause may rant about food prices, but when they say food is high priced, you should ask them, compared to what? Nowhere in the world do people work fewer hours for their daily bread -- and meat and fruit and vegetables -- than on this continent. In dear olde England, where we know times are bad, a worker must labour 1½ hours to earn enough to buy a pound of sirloin steak. In Alberta he can do it in less than ½ an hour. And in Japan, which we admire for its competence, a man would have to work for over 10 hours to buy the same amount of meat.

Nor is food high priced compared with other things we buy. We can find out what has happened to food prices during the past few years if we compare the cost of a haircut and a pound of steak today and yesterday -- or have you compared food costs with what has happened to the cost of interest on borrowed money -- or of a new car -- or the gas to run it -- or a new house -- or taxes -- or any of the things we spend our money on? As the years have gone by, the percentage of our income we spend on food has gone down -- from about a quarter of our income 25 years ago to less than a fifth today.

So, if food is 'cheap compared to what it costs in other countries, compared to what we earn, and compared to other things, how can we say it is expensive? We must conclude it's a bargain. Enjoy it! And other things, too. In fact, it is the low cost of food which enables us to buy so many other things we associate with the good life -- color T.V., a second car, the family vacation.

So food is a real bargain -- enjoy it!

Volunteers needed Ambulance meeting held in Redwater

A very small but enthusiastic and very interested group of people turned out Monday night to discuss and learn about an ambulance and emergency medical team in Redwater. The meeting was opened by Mr. Brian Davies, who then introduced guest speaker, Nigel Mansfield from St. John's Ambulance in Bon Accord. Mr. Mansfield used slides to illustrate the area of service, the variety and system of service, and the duties of volunteers.

Bon Accord is Redwater's nearest ambulance service, and they cover a large area, from Newbrook to Gibbons. The St. Albert and Morinville ambulances work in conjunction with the Bon Accord unit. The area will be smaller and more efficient if Redwater establishes an ambulance service.

Mr. Davies said, "An ambulance service in Redwater will serve all types of emergencies. It is not just a transporter of bodies, but a treatment unit outside the hospital, coming to the aid of heart attack victims, broken bones, industrial accidents, or a child with a badly scalded foot." He added, "The service area is to be given where it is needed and practicable."

An ambulance is all ready slated for Redwater, and space to shelter it has been provided at the hospital. The building of the garage is presently in progress.

$25,000., which includes annual insurance, is needed to get the project off the ground and rolling. The Redwater Lions Club is promoting the project and calls on all service clubs in the Thorhild-Redwater area to support it. The Redwater Kinsmen are sincerely interested. Any other group, service club or industry are welcome and urged to participate in fund raising and promotion. Your donation will be greatly appreciated.

An ambulance service in Redwater concerns everyone in the hospital area.

A very important part of the ambulance program are the volunteers, who are needed for the Emergency Medical Team, to give pre-hospital care to the injured or ill, and to operate the ambulance and its equipment. St. John's Ambulance will train all members, men and women.

The average time for volunteer duty is once every three days, depending on the number of volunteers and the scheduling. The average time spent per call is from two and one-half to three hours.

If you think you qualify and would like an interesting and important job serving your community, phone Bill Johnson at 735-3093. Bill has volunteered to head the organization and is a newcomer to Redwater. Sincere thanks Bill and all who signed the list of volunteers. Thanks also to Mrs. Jegard of the Hospital Board and Mr. Nigel Mansfield for his very informative talk.

Little interest shown in Bon Accord election

Only 71 people turned out to vote for the man of their choice at an election held in Bon Accord last Wednesday, out of a possible 700 voters. The election was held to fill the vacancy left by Dave Everitt.

Jim Thibeault won the election capturing 58 votes, while his opposition Bob Fearnough counted 13 votes in his favor.

Jim Thibeault has lived in Bon Accord for the past year, with his wife Lynne and their two children Robert and Amy. He is presently employed as a process operator at the Gulf Oil Refinery in Edmonton.

Convent bell is back in place

By Margaret Yaesyshen

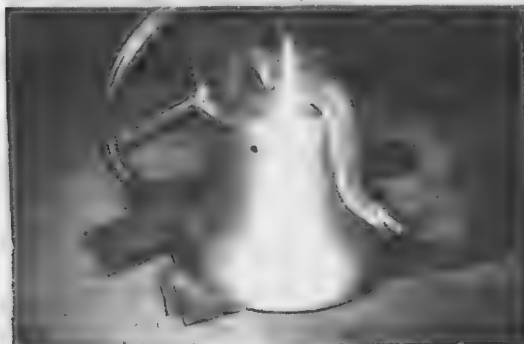

The 200 pound bell which was removed from the Notre Dame Convent in Morinville is now back where it belongs. The bell had been stolen from the Convent Tower in August and then recovered a few days later near Heritage Lake. However, it was just recently that the difficult job of getting it back in the tower was accomplished, with the help of a number of people.

Mr. Pete Gibeault along with the staff at Marco Welding spent considerable time repairing and restoring the bell. A crane, owned by Laden Feed Systems of Linden, Alberta was used to set the bell back in the tower and the services of the operator, Mr. Dennis Wall, were invaluable.

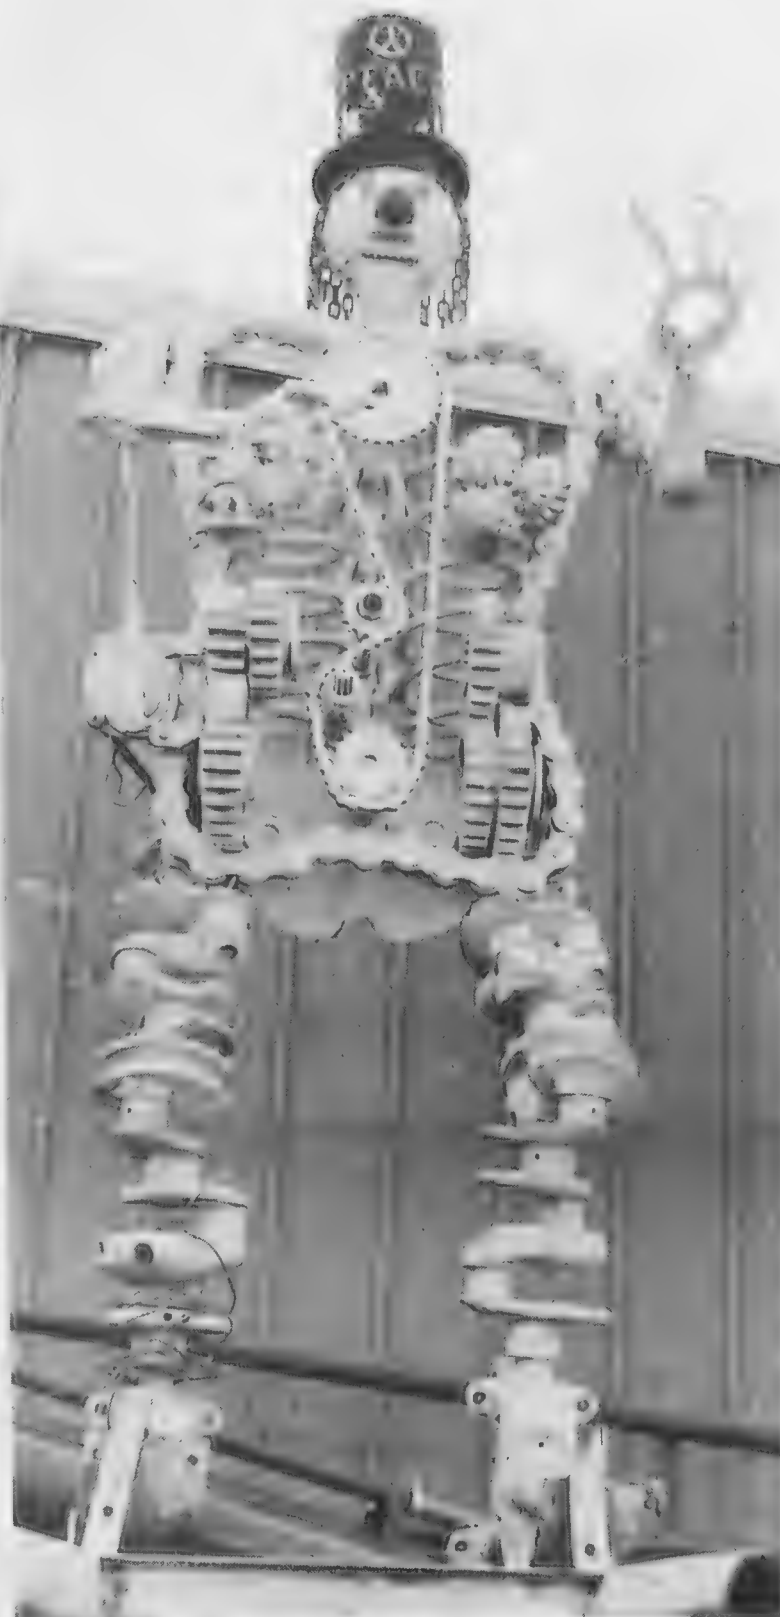

The Historical and Cultural Society is very grateful to these people for their help on this project. The man-hours and equipment necessary to replace the bell manually would have been a heavy burden for the Society to bear.

The bell is of historical value to the community having been brought from France in the early 1900's. It is also an important feature of the Notre Dame Convent which is now a provincial historical resource.

Back In The Tower

The Convent Bell, which is named Jeanne, Mario, Bathilde, was probably made in Vannes, France and was shipped to Morinville near the turn of the century.

'Piece' Man

Now don't give me the gears, I think I can crank it all together. Before you know it I'll spring into action. Mr. Lucien Bergevin is the creator of this 'man-made' creation, which stands in front of Legal Welding in Legal.

MD Council discusses poor road conditions

The condition of the roads throughout the MD of Sturgeon is of special concern lately and was dealt with at some length during the regular MD Council meeting held last Thursday, Friday and Monday.

Council expressed deep concern about the current construction on the Villeneuve Road and secondary 635, which is greatly hindering traffic flow in that part of the MD. It was suggested that Alberta Transport be contacted in regards to the progress of the upgrading of these two arteries.

Councillor Kluthe expressed his concern about the upgrading of 794, which he didn't feel would be paved this year. He was upset with the poor condition of roads in Please Turn to Page B-6

Soybeans and sorghum

Two new potential crops for southeastern Saskatchewan and southwestern Manitoba, have been tested successfully.

Agriculture Canada's New Crop Development Fund helped finance a project to evaluate the potential for growing soybeans and sorghum in the two provinces. King Grain Ltd. of Chatham, Ontario, carried out the project last summer.

The company found that soybeans and sorghum can be grown successfully in some southern parts of the Prairies if they are planted early enough and if there is no early frost. Plant breeders must now develop varieties of the two crops that have greater seedling vigor and growth ability at low soil temperatures.

MRS. MABEL CLARK

Former Namoo resident receives award

Mrs. Mabel Clark was one of 12 Albertans to receive an annual award recently.

In 1973 an annual Recognition Award was set up to honour persons who have made a substantial voluntary contribution to the City of Edmonton by promoting the gathering, collecting, retention or promotion of the history of Edmonton and district.

Mrs. Mabel Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Long, one of the first settlers in the Namoo district, was honoured at a dinner, held at the clerk's quarters at Fort Edmonton, and presented with a scroll from the Edmonton Historical Board.

Mrs. Clark has worked continually over the years to preserve an understanding of the pioneering experience. She has long been active in oldtimer groups and in 1974 began a program of talks on Alberta Heritage for Edmonton schools.

Mrs. Clark's son Herb, flew home from Tulsa, Oklahoma to attend this event. Several relations and friends attended from the area.

Mrs. Clark also writes monthly articles titled "The Good Old Days" for the Londonderry Colloquim

Morinville Memos

By Margaret Yacyshen

Cubs and Venturers will hold a Bottle Drive Thursday, October 19. By donating your bottles when they call you can help send the boys to camp.

The Morinville Brownies are grateful to all those who donated to and attended the Brownie rummage sale. The help of their mothers and Mrs. Hebert, her daughter and the Red Rooster also contributed to the success of the sale.

Fall and winter are perfect times to embark on a new craft or to attempt something artistic. Morinville artists and craftsmen now need go no further than downtown to pick up everything they need for a wide variety of crafts. Crown Stationery has expanded into the arts and crafts field and has in stock the equipment required for macrame, silk flower making, chocolate making and other crafts. As well, there is a line of artists' supplies for budding Picassos. If the store doesn't have what you want, they will try their best to get it for you. Crown Stationery is located at 9926 103 Street, Morinville, one half block south of the Morinville post office.

Parents whose children take the bus in town are reminded to obtain school bus passes. A fee of $80 must be paid by November 1, 1978 at which time the passes become effective. Those children without a pass will not be allowed to take the bus. The fee may be paid at the Thibeault School Board office located in the Historical and Cultural Centre.

Pool facts needed says Morinville Board

The Morinville Recreation Board held two meetings this month to cover the agenda.

Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council agreement was studied. A new agreement must be signed, and the Morinville Recreation Board desires a few changes.

The Regional Recreation survey of a regional swimming pool was discussed. Some ratepayers in Morinville believe this survey is a complete plan. The survey's context was rules and regulations for a swimming pool, and it concludes that Morinville is the desired central location, if and when a pool is to be built.

The Recreation Board feels this survey, now three years old, does not begin to cover all matters pertinent to building a regional pool in Morinville. "We would like to know the costs to Morinville in today's dollars," said Chairman Maureen Campbell. "as well as what professional people believe would be the most suitable kind of a pool, and what location would be best." What the 1976 report by the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council covered was such things as time schedules, maintenance and how the pool should be used. Mrs. Campbell told the Gazette. The only thing of value to the Morinville Recreation Board was their recommendation that the pool should be built in Morinville. Yet when we met with Town Council on October 3, we were told a "study" had already been done.

The Board now plans to do some research and investigation into costs, location and types of pools, before going back to council for further discussion on the matter.

PLANNING FOR PARKS

Parks will soon come into existence in the Notre Dame school area. Careful planning must be considered and the Board would welcome citizens of the area to express their thoughts and ideas. Anyone wishing to contact the Board may do so by phoning Mrs. Maureen Campbell, chairman at 939-4560 or Mrs. Sherry Taylor, secretary at 939-4829.

A representative of the Kinsmen was in attendance. There was a clarification of understanding between the Kinsmen and the Recreation Board. He was informed that the town had installed a water line and frost-free hydrant in Glen View Park. This will aid the Kinsmen in the tree watering and their outdoor skating rink.

Partial aid was asked by the Minor Hockey Association to assist in the training of hockey referees.

The Knights of Columbus are to be commended on giving the Recreation Board the logs in their possession. Previous plans for the logs had been abandoned. The logs are to be used at Heritage Lake for traffic control in the future.

Next regular meeting of the Recreation Board will be on November 2, 1978 at 8 p.m. in the Cultural Centre. At that time a committee will be assigned to head up the project of a swimming pool.

Morinville Hardware under new ownership

By Margaret Yacyshen

The new owner of Morinville Hardware, Larry Fedechko, comes prepared with 12 years of experience in the hardware business. He spent those years, five of which were at the management level, working with Macleod's stores in Alberta, Saskatchewan, and B.C.

Prior to moving to Morinville with his wife, Lilianne and three sons, Mr. Fedechko was the manager of a Macleod's store in Chilliwack, B.C.

Here in Morinville, Mr. Fedechko plans to offer a wide selection of hardware items such as electrical, plumbing, and cleaning aids. In order to do so, he will be discontinuing the sale of gifts and toys.

Assisting him in his business will be his brother-in-law Marcel Alain.

A grand opening is being planned for November 16, 17 and 18. Various specials and in-store prizes will be offered.

this area of the MD, which makes it difficult to get around and dangerous to travel. Mr. Kluthe hoped that 794 would at least receive another travelling before freeze up.

The councillors discussed maintenance routes, in specific how to cut down some of the mileage in some of the larger divisions. Reeve Flynn suggested that the routes should be established irrespective of divisional boundaries. He also felt that the MD should look into obtaining some traffic counters to monitor traffic on various roads in the MD.

Councillor Van de Walle questioned the expenditure for such devices, as their accuracy would be questionable. Council agreed that the condition of roads was of major concern and that they should look more deeply into these problems at another meeting.

Reeve Flynn promoted another idea that might alleviate some of the torture the municipal roads endure. He suggested that gravel be stockpiled in the different divisions of the MD during the winter months, thereby cutting out some of the hard summer traffic.

Council also received information that letters had been sent out to gravel pits informing them to check loads leaving the pits as overloaded trucks could result on road bans being levied. It is expected that if this is properly enforced, the roads will not take the pounding they have been normally used to.

BEAVER CONTROL

It was reported that 102 beavers have been trapped so far out of 211 traps set in 25 locations. Fifteen of these locations are now considered trapped out. Twenty-one dams have been blown, but there is an estimated minimum of 100 dams on the Sturgeon River alone. It was also reported that the controller would be moving to the Redwater River to do some trapping, but he felt that there should be more trapping on the Sturgeon. Council noted that a St. Albert man would be trapping some beaver in a couple of weeks, to further aid in the control program. Of the females trapped, seven of them had had their second litter.

FARMER ASSISTANCE

Council sent a letter to the Minister of Agriculture, Marvin Moore, asking for more assistance for farmers in the area due to the large amount of rainfall this year, that has run havoc with the harvest this year. They suggested that the assistance might come in aid of the cost of grain drying.

QCTV

Council received a letter from QCTV inquiring if council would rescind the motion that prevents the company from laying cable on the MD road allowances. The cable company was concerned because obtaining their own easements proved to be too costly and too time consuming. Council agreed to grant QCTV use of its road allowances, provided the company assumes all costs associated with the laying of the cable and any damage which the line might occur following its installation.

NO GRANT APPLICATIONS

Larry Kirkpatrick from Sturgeon Regional Recreation informed council that no applications for provincial project co-operation grants had been received. He hoped that the councillors would get in touch with groups involved in community projects to submit an application as soon as possible.

OTHER BUSINESS

The Town of Redwater has signed the fire agreement with the MD of Sturgeon.

Council approved a grant of $300 for the Morinville Ambulance Service.

Bruce McConnell's application for proposed irrigation SE 8-57-25-4 was approved by council provided he accepts responsibility for any damage it may cause to roads.

Soil salinity

Soil salinity is a serious threat to continued crop production on irrigated land in southern Alberta. About 15 percent of such irrigated land is considered non-productive because of the excessive buildup of salts that are toxic to plants.

About three-quarters of the lost land is due to seepage from irrigation canals and ditches. Dr. Theron Sommerfeldt, a scientist at Agriculture Canada's Lethbridge, Alberta Research Station, has developed a low cost, easy to apply lining that shows promise in stopping seepage from prairie irrigation canals.

The lining is made from a mixture of an asphalt emulsion, a clay material and a wetting agent. It is applied by a specially designed machine developed at Agriculture Canada's research station at Swift Current, Sask.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kozak appeared before council concerned about their assessment. Council listened to Mr. Kozak's concerns, but informed him that council was not prepared to entertain assessment problems at regular meetings. Reeve Flynn added that there was a proper procedure to follow, set up by the MD, for people who question their assessment and this procedure must be followed. Mr. Kozak was also informed that if he was not pleased with the MD's procedure that he could appeal to the provincial board.

Council refused three requests to rent equipment to Everall Construction and Dave Bokenfohr. Council felt they did not want to enter into a commercial rental situation, but would still allow use of their equipment for community projects.

The MD was in receipt of some items from seizures by the RCMP. The goods included a 750 Kawasaki motorcycle, a small black and white television, and an 8-track stereo set-up. Councillor Van de Walle commented that perhaps the items could be given away as door prizes at the annual meeting, as it might prompt a better turnout. Councillor Crozier suggested that the items should go to charity. Councillor Van de Walle agreed, but council decided to leave it in the hands of the Secretary Treasurer, Gib Boddez.

Council received a letter from the Village of Bon Accord regarding a public meeting which is to be held in Bon Accord on November 28. The meeting has been established to discuss growth of that village. Members of the MD were invited to attend.

Last Round-Up News

By Jean Toane

The 38 members and guests who attended the weekly regular meeting of the Last Round-up on Thursday, October 12, were entertained in a novel manner by the afternoon group of Gibbons kindergarten children. They sang two songs and graciously allowed us to play games with them. They also seemed to enjoy the cookies offered to them by Cathie and other members.

Their teacher invited the seniors to feel free to visit the children in their school classes. They also welcome donations of wallpaper, and small containers which might be used to make Christmas gifts.

Two new members were welcomed into the group today - they are Hazel Atkinson, and George Adams.

Most of the members participated in the whist games, with Emily Oliver and Katie Brandle winning first prizes for high scores, and Pansie and Cliff Davidson each winning a consolation prize. John Soldan was cribbage champ today!

A short meeting followed the delicious lunch served by Reet Mabbutt, Sheila Crosbie and Jeanette Petherbridge. Emily made several announcements. We may again participate in bowling at Lancaster Park - 40 cents a game, shoes may be rented there. Phone Emily for details if interested in bowling. We have also been invited to attend the official opening of the Gibbons Library on Tuesday, October 17, at 7 p.m. Lt. Governor Steinhauer will be guest speaker, so we will certainly make an effort to attend this function. The Library is located in the office formerly occupied by the town council, right next to the Fire Hall.

Another attractive furnishing in the Dew Drop Inn is a full length mirror purchased with some of the proceeds of the afghan raffle, and chosen by Katie. Very nice, Katie!!

Just another reminder about the FALL DINNER to be held in the Gibbons Hall on Sunday, October 22 from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m., sponsored by the Anglican Church each year. The smorgasbord, featuring delicious turkey and baked ham, and multi side dishes and vegetables is your chance to enjoy tasty food and visit with your neighbors. Other features are the sale of home baking and bazaar items. A decorated cake and other articles will be raffled. YOU JUST MIGHT BE LUCKY! Hope to see you all there.

Bon Accord stages park clean-up

By Sadie Allen

Time is getting short if you want to attend the big bash that goes along with the car raffle on October 28. Contact Sandi Herd for your ticket -- a ticket means a big boost for the community and a great night out for two. Winners of the Early Bird draw were Bill and Doris Carleton and Ann and Dave Latta.

This past weekend half a dozen gals and guys and, what seemed at times a thousand kids, made some big changes in the Springbrook Park. A general clean-up and repaint job brightened up existing equipment and thanks to foreman Chris Ford and willing workers Dennis, Dan and Dale, the tripod was transformed into a slide which could support an elephant. More additions will be made to the deck in future work bees. Wayne Carr, carpenter extraordinaire, and apprentice Geoff put a roof on the Crooked Little House. The women provided refreshments and did wonders with paint and wood stain.

Gibbons Marlo's first try-outs were Tuesday, October 17. For anyone who missed these there will be another tryout for those interested in playing senior hockey Sunday, October 22 at 2 p.m.

SATURDAY MORNING FUN HOCKEY

Every Saturday morning from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m. there is one hour where anyone interested, can come out and play hockey it is just a fun time. Newcomers come down this Saturday, meet your fellow townspeople. It doesn't matter if you have ever played hockey, let's see you.

are to be commended on their industry. Funds to complete the park have been raised in various ways, including having a table at Farmers' Market during the summer. Congratulations!

NOTE -- Try-outs for the senior men's hockey team will be at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, October 22.

The final Farmers' Market was held in conjunction with the Thanksgiving supper on October 9. A number of articles were drawn for with the following winners: The Golden Gems afghan was won by Pat Reynolds, Mrs. B. Karaty of Edmonton drew the ticket. Door prizes were won by Roberta Devaul of Edmonton and Joan Hill, Bon Accord. The ceramic cat was won by Connie Lewis, the pumpkin by Heath Reichle and the door hanger by Terry Stobbs. The Ag. SKATING RINK OPENS

The new ice in the Redwater Skating Rink was used for the first time last Monday, when the Redwater Outlaws Hockey Team, who put in the ice, sponsored a hockey school for youngsters 5 to 14. Further lessons will follow on Wednesday and Friday for two weeks for 5 to 8 p.m. A spokesman for the team commented, "We are concerned with teaching the kids the basics. We are concerned mainly with skating, puck control and position."

SKATE SALE

The Redwater Figure Skating Club will be holding a dress and skate sale on Tuesday, October 24. The club will be selling skates of all types at 7 p.m. in the Multiplex. Any person who has skates for sale must bring them to the Multiplex between 6:30 and 7 p.m. with their name and price on the skates. Ten percent will be committed for the items sold. Skating costumes, especially dresses and the official club skirts for girls and vests for boys are welcomed also. Skirt and vest material will be available as well as club crests. At this time, our trio of skating pros will be present to answer any questions. There are vacancies for those who have children wishing skating instruction. Lessons are on Wednesday and the cost per child for the season will be about $60 for the five and a half months of skating. Those wishing private lessons will pay the pro directly. This will aid the club in keeping prices down. Parent participation is encouraged in the form of assisting with catering at the Multiplex and possibly the odd bake sale. The results will be as effective as our efforts. For further information contact J. Holt at 735-3893 after 5 p.m.

BROWNIES & GUIDES

The Brownies and Guides will be collecting for UNICEF on Tuesday, Halloween and Wednesday, November 1. The girls will be carrying identification cards. A hallowe'en party for the girls will be held after the Wednesday collection.

Anyone with a special talent or skill, that would benefit the guides, and who would like to share their knowledge, please contact Captain Evelyn Kucy at 735-3306. There are 21 girl guides, one captain, two lieutenants and a junior leader who finished guiding last year.

The Guides and Brownies annual hallowe'en tea and bake sale will be held in the Legion Hall on October 27 from 3 to 4:30 p.m. Tickets are 75¢. Join your friends over delicious pumpkin cake and tea for an enjoyable afternoon get together. Pick up home baked goodies for your family.

Do you have any good, used, clean clothing, pots and pans, dishes or used furniture? If so, please bring them to St. Clare's Parish Hall up to October 21. We are having a drive for the Marion Centre and the St. Vincent de Paule store. Please mark the men's clothing clearly. For more information phone 735-3748.

No. 524 Squadron marks Air Cadet Week

From October 15-22 squadrons all across Canada are celebrating Air Cadet Week in many different ways. #524 plans to have a pot luck supper on Tuesday evening for cadets and their families, as this was so successful last year. Some of our cadets will be telling of their experiences at camp this past summer and of the opportunities available to all cadets in the air cadet movement. Parents will also become better acquainted with the squadron's officers, and with one another, working together for the benefit of the cadets.

This past weekend saw the squadron travelling to Camp Wright. From all reports, everyone had an interesting and enjoyable time. Many cadets chose to sleep outdoors in the shelters they learned to build, as the weather was so nice. A certain officer led senior cadets in circles for a time but all turned out well in the end!

The squadron returned home Sunday afternoon tired, happy and with a rather "gamy" odor around them from cooking over bonfires.

Sgt. Marian Graca recommends the Air Cadet training program on vehicle maintenance.

wading through swamps, and all the good exercise in the fresh air that is part of life at Camp Wright.

Thanks go to all those who helped make this camp memorable, the squadron staff, the chaperones and especially the cook, Mrs. Bernice Strid and her helpers.

Sgt. Marian Graca spent six weeks at CFB Borden, Ontario on a technical training scholarship. There he received training in vehicle maintenance, learning what makes an automobile operate and how to keep it operating in top shape.

Sgt. Graca didn't spend all his time training. There was time to make new friends with cadets from all across Canada. Evenings were usually spent practising for a Sunset Ceremony, for which he was on a color party. On weekends, he went on tours to see such places as the CN Tower, Ontario Place, Casa Loma and the Royal Ontario Museum in Toronto, Niagara Falls, Fort George and Wasaga Beach. All cadets went on a two-day, 30 mile canoe trip as well.

Sgt. Graca recommends this course to anyone who is interested in knowing more about automobiles and their care and maintenance.

The Sacred Heart Youth class attended the World of Wheels exhibit at the Sportex on October 14. Each member had a chance to meet Eric Estrada (the actor "Ponch" from the TV series C.H.I.P.S.) and were fortunate enough to get his autograph. After a sleep-over at the LeBlanc home, the class attended mass at St. Joseph's convent and finished up with breakfast and a tour of the nuns' residence. Sister Mary Kirk and Mother Superior, Sister Katri, were on hand to answer all queries. Thanks to all the sisters for their warm welcome and for sharing their home with the class. On Wednesday, October 18, a mass will be held after school for all catechism students. Refreshments will follow. Grade 2 Catechism class will have their "Friend's Party" on Sunday, October 22 at the regular class time of 9:30 a.m. Parents of the Grade 2 class are encouraged to attend. For information contact Mary or Clay LeBlanc, 921-3690.

Anyone interested in playing senior hockey with the Bon Accord ladies' team is asked to contact Marg Sullivan, 921-2392. Experience is not necessary and everyone gets a chance to play. The first practice will be held on Wednesday, October 25 at 8 p.m.

The General and the weeping rock

By Margarette Atkinson

Driving along an old Swanson Lumber camp trail, the forest was tall yet lush green foliage grew thickly, everywhere in the early 1950's and the song of birds was wondrous to hear as we were wondrous to hear. As we approached a slough a moose, his head dipped deep into the sun sparkled waters, lifted it, with a mouthful of some juicy green morsels. He just remained where he was as we drove on. The trail was narrow and the lush grasses growing on it were soft, silencing our wheels. A sawhorse could be seen to the left of the trail deep in the green of some berry bushes. Someone must live there surely, I said to my husband. "Let's go see!" Getting out of the car I ventured in past the saw horse. A wide clearing appeared and there stood a well built log house, its wide doorway facing away from the morning sun. Suddenly a tall thin figure appeared, wearing his cap (which looked like a cavalry army general's hat) sideways on his head. "Well I'll be go to heel, and gosh danged!" he roared. "If you ain't a sight for sore eyes ma'am!" And he bowed saluted and shook hands, so happily.

His name was Mr. Generoux. But I couldn't help calling him "Mr. General." His long "bibbed," overalls were worn with one pant leg rolled to the knee, exposing one underwear covered leg, and the other one down. One brace of his overalls was up, the other down. White sneakers covered his feet, one big toe sticking out.

Stepping into his cabin we found it huge inside. My goodness such a surprise! Sawdust, covered sparkling linoleum covered floors. His big black cast iron stove gave off a wonderful warmth. It's black surface gleamed, reflecting the big shiny tea kettle steaming away. A big grey enamelled pot stood near the back of the stove. "I just made a pot of stew golang it, and your just a sight for sore eyes!" Rubbing his hands happily, he started to set the table.

"I'll set the table and serve you men how would that be?" I offered. Well I'll be dad blasted if I ain't gonna enjoy that!" he replied, showing me where everything was.

After enjoying a most delicious stew followed by his homemade apple pie "Mr. General" filled and lit his pipe, puffing on it contentedly.

Now, Mr. General I wish to do the dishes and let you two menfolks have a visit. Slapping his knee in glee, he got the dishpan off a nail on the outside of his cabin. I soon had everything clean and tidy.

"I say there Mrs. Maggie, how'd it be big Albert and me, goes a fishin' whilst you makes yourself to home here?" he asked.

"You bet your boots General!" I saluted waving the dish towel.

I spent the afternoon hours pleasantly with birds singing all around, warm sunshine and bees humming. Taking a stroll to the brow of a hill I saw in the bright sunshine a big rock. But that rock was soaking wet -- "What on earth?"

When Albert and the "General" returned I was filled with excitement. "That rock General?" I asked. "Tell me about it will you?"

"Yep, that rock only gets wet if the weather is hot. When the sun sets, she's dry as can be!"

Next day we went to the rock, water was all over it. My hand was wet touching it. I knelt down to taste the water. Clear and cold.

As the sun slowly nestled behind the tall spruce trees I watched. The rock became less shiny wet, it became just damp. Then nothing. No wetness, no water. "Why?" I pondered.

"Mr. General is there a spring under it?"

"No Maggie, ain't no spring!" That rock just weeps in the hot sun!" he replied.

Next day, as we were about to leave, Mr. Generoux felt sad, and we gave him our provisions and said we'd come back often. His eyes lit up at this and doffing his cap he waved it. We did go back many times, to the log cabin with the saw blades across the windows to keep out bears. That rock is possibly still there. But our Mr. "General" is dead these many years. I wept, as did that rock, for the loss of a wonderful soul.

"I DON'T CARE WHAT EUGENE WHELAN SAYS - THE ANSWER IS STILL NO!"

Wild mustard a serious problem

From Agriculture Canada

A stand of golden-yellow flowers stretching to the horizon under a cloud-flecked, blue summer sky may be a subject for artists but for Canadian farmers it can mean economic trouble.

It is most common in cultivated fields and frequently forms almost solid stands in fields of spring cereals. The weed reaches its greatest abundance in the cultivated fields on the Prairies. If left untreated it can reduce yields of wheat, oats and barley by as much as 53, 63 and 69 percent respectively.

Wild mustard is an annual with one generation per year under Canadian conditions and it never overwinters here. It is virtually absent from land that has not been recently disturbed. However, when fields, pastures or roadsides are cultivated, wild mustard plants often appear in abundance because of the germination of dormant seed. Even though wild mustard is considered to be edible in its early stages and its seeds may be used to make a mustard condiment, the seeds may cause serious illness, or even death, if livestock eat them in large quantities.

Wild mustard is successfully controlled by a wide range of herbicides such as 2,4-D, MCPA, MCPB, dicamba, and benazolin. However, it continues to be a common weed in Canadian cereal crops. This is due to its effective seed production, dispersal and germination method and not to the development of herbicide-resistant strains.

Another way to control the weed is by cultivating the soil after the seed has germinated. However, cultivation of infested land is often impossible because mustard seed usually germinates about the same time as annual crops.

Disposable lungs-livers

The Japan Economic Journal reports on that country's first artificial, disposable lung and liver. The man-made disposable liver, "Hemosorba," a product of the Asahi Medical Company, is a two-mouthed, oblong plastic bottle, filled with 200 grams of carbon granules and a physiological salt mixture to absorb impurities. The device does not perform all liver functions, but acts as a support for the real organ. The Nippon Zeon Company has developed a plastic artificial disposable lung designed for use in heart surgery. Completely sterile, it has a natural affinity with blood, and is believed unlikely to cause thrombus, hemolysis, or other complications.

The Ladies Community Club will meet at the home of Lynda Johnson, 5049 - 48 Street on November 8 at 8:30 p.m. Mrs. Myrna Fyfe, P.C. nominee for the forthcoming provincial election will be guest speaker.

A Homemakers' First Aid course is slated for November 7 and 8 from 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. in the Bon Accord school. This is a very basic course concerned with accidents in the home, how to prevent them and how to deal with them. If interested, please call Pauline at 921-3625.

Looking for fun and exercise at the same time -- why not come out and enjoy a session of square dancing held every Thursday from 8 p.m. in the Bon Accord Community Centre. Call Doris Carleton, 921-3686, if interested.

Grain and oilseed outlook

Forecasts of world wheat production in 1978-79 range from 408 to almost 413 million tons and world supplies are expected to be about four percent higher than last year, reports Agriculture Canada.

Canada's 1978 wheat harvest is expected to be 20 million tons, slightly more than last year. Canadian wheat exports are expected to be between 14.5 and 15 million tons this year, down from the 1977-78 total of about 16 million tons.

Wheat prices in both Canada and the United States rose in August and early September in spite of probably larger world supplies. U.S. wheat prices and the value of the Canadian dollar will be important factors affecting returns to Canadian wheat producers in this crop year.

World coarse grain production could reach an all-time high of 714 million tons in 1978-79. U.S. corn farmers are expecting their fourth consecutive record crop (173 million tons). Relatively stable prices for coarse grains are expected throughout 1978-79.

Preliminary forecasts pl-acc Canadian coarse grain production for 1978 at 19.7 million tons, down 12 percent from last year. Canadian coarse grain exports are expected to be similar to last year's, with barley exports slightly higher and corn exports down significantly from the 1977-78 volume.

World supplies of oilseeds and oilseed products are expected to increase moderately in 1978. Demand for edible oils and high protein meals is not expected to grow much during the present crop year because of the slow growth in the world economy and slow growth of livestock numbers. Oilseed prices will probably not change much from present levels during the remainder of 1978, but may come under pressure in early 1979.

The Canadian rapeseed crop is forecast at 3.4 million tons compared to two million tons in 1977. However the level of world oilseed supplies, coupled with the slow rate of growth of demand will limit opportunities to increase export of the Canadian crop this year. Rapeseed prices should stay near their present level for at least the first half of the crop year.

The Sturgeon Jets, newest member of the Capital Junior Hockey League will play their first home game of the season this Saturday night in Morinville Arena with the defending champion Stony Plain Flyers providing the opposition. and girls sections this year:

- Division I - Year of birth 1965, 1966
- Division II - Year of birth 1967, 1968
- Division III - Year of birth 1969, 1970.

Registration took place on October 4 and October 14 with approximately 115 girls and 100 boys registering. Registration was down slightly from the previous year, perhaps due to the fact that registration was not conducted through the schools as it was last year.

If you did not register your son or daughter and wish to do so registrations will be accepted for the remainder of this week. There is room for more players, particularly in the girls seven and eight year old division and the boys 12 and 13 year old division.

It is expected that teams will be formed during the last week of October and practices will begin on Saturday, November 4. A coaches clinic will be held near the middle of November and a referees clinic is also being planned.

Further information may be obtained by phoning 459-7528.

Game tonight

Saints win streak now at five games

St. Albert Junior Saints stretched their winning streak to five games during the weekend coming up with a 10-3 win Friday night in St. Albert over the Taber Golden Suns and then travelling to Calgary Sunday afternoon where they handed the hometown Chinooks a 6-4 loss.

The pair of wins moves the Saints into sole possession of second place in the seven-team Alberta Junior Hockey League, six points behind the league leading Calgary Canucks who are unbeaten in eight starts.

Chinooks are in third spot with six points while Sherwood Park, Fort Saskatchewan and Red Deer all are tied with four points each. Taber Golden Suns have only one win in eight starts.

Saints will be out to make it six in a row tonight when they play host to the Red Deer Rustlers in a game starting at 8 p.m. Saints will travel to Fort Saskatchewan Sunday and on Tuesday they will play in Sherwood Park.

In other A.J.H.L. games on the weekend, the Canucks won 6-3 Saturday in the Fort and on Sunday took a close 3-2 win over the Crusaders. Taber Golden Suns lost both road trip games as they were defeated 3-1 in Red Deer Saturday and 6-5 Sunday in the Fort.

Friday night's game with the Golden Suns saw the Saints dominate play from the opening whistle. They controlled the play throughout the game and easily won by a 10-3 score.

Saints held period leads of 4-1 and 7-3 before adding three more in the final 20 minutes.

Referee Al Stoll had a very busy night visiting the timekeeper as he handed out 42 penalties - 26 to the Saints. A bench clearing incident occurred at the 18:08 mark of the second period when Mark Magnan of the Saints and Bob Fleming of the Suns became involved in a fight. It resulted in Magnan being tossed out of the game for his second major.

Some of the Saints players left Taber coach John Sangster deliberately sent Fleming out to provoke the fight with Magnan to get him out of the game. Within a short time the arguing turned into a fight and both benches cleared.

TROY MURRAY

After a delay of some 10 minutes referee Stoll sent both teams to their dressing rooms to cool off and the remaining minute and 52 seconds were tacked on to the third period.

Both teams stuck to hockey in the final 20 minutes and no further incidents occurred other than six minor penalties.

Mark Messier led the Saints scoring with three goals while Mickey Volcan and Dean Dachyshyn added a pair each. Troy Murray, Brian Shaw, and Robbie Burns added singles.

Saints outshot the Suns 51 to 28.

Sunday afternoon in the Corral in Calgary the two teams were tied 3-3 at the end of the second period as neither club could mount much of an offense.

Shaw opened the scoring at 7:48 of the first period only to have Jim Dodds score for the Chinooks two minutes later. Ken Solheim scored a powerplay goal in the last minute of the period to give St. Albert a 2-1 lead going into the second period.

Calgary reversed the scoring in the middle period as they outscored the Saints two goals to one with Dan Bour bonnais and Brian Hermant scoring. Gilbert Longpre scored the lone Saints goal.

Saints took a 4-3 lead at 4:21 of the third on a goal by young Troy Murray and went ahead by two on Mark Magnan's goal at 9:56. Messier put it out of reach at 11:47 with his sixth of the season before Geoff Wilson scored the final goal of the game for the Chinooks at 18:14.

Saints outshot the Chinooks 32-18 and received 8 of 14 penalties from referee Jim Beckman.

Willowbrook takes championship in Pee wee Football

Robert Black scored twice for the Generals in the opening quarter, the first following a 55 yard drive, and the other on a 20 yard carry following a 60 yard drive. Willowbrook's only touchdown of this quarter came after a 55 yard kick by Dave Holden was recovered by Willowbrook on the General's five yard line. Pierre Beauchemin carried it over from there for the major. Dave Holden made the convert good for two points.

Andy Christianson booted a single for Willowbrook's only points of the second quarter. However, the Generals scored three touchdowns. Steve Zielinski went over from the one following a 40 yard end sweep by Brent Sedgewick to set up the major. Aaron Schelemy went over from the three to chalk up Willowbrook's second and Dave Holden counted two for the convert. Steve scored again at the close of the half to put the Willowbrook squad ahead 28 to 13. In the third quarter, Robert Black finished up the General's scoring on a five yard carry for the touchdown. Andy Christianson made the convert good for two points. Steve Zielinski scored again in the third on a 55 yard romp.

Aaron Schelemy scored in the fourth for Willowbrook following a 50 yard drive. Mr. Zielinski closed out the year with a final touchdown on a 35 yard run on a reverse. Dave Holden converted for two more points. Final scores: Willowbrook 48, Standard General 21.

CARMA VS AKINS

Carma and Akins fought a tough battle that was decided after the first quarter of play. Bill McNamara was the hero of the match, scoring two singles on punts into the end zone. Carma was left scoreless in this tough defensive contest, which Akins won 2 to 0.

St. Alberta Crude
Blubber Butts QB Larry (Bomb) Powers was under constant pressure all game from the rush of the Convert's Boge (Crusher) Coles and Gary Waller. Coles and Waller helped lead their team to a 32-20 decision; their first in six starts in the St. Albert Flag Football League.

Converts kick Blubber's Butts Tie may cost Sore Losers shot at title

It was an eventful Sunday of football in the St. Albert Flag Football League. The Dirty Dozen and the Sore Losers fought a defensive battle to a 12-12 draw and (get this) the lowly Converts finally put it all together and took it to the Blubber Butts 32-20.

Even though they have not lost a game the tie may just have destroyed the Sore Losers chance of a playoff game with the Rummies to determine the league champion. Rummies continued to win with a 25-6 decision over the Broozers. They lead the Sore Losers by three points and although the Sore Losers have one game in hand the Rummies need only continue their winning streak to clinch the title. Sore Losers and Rummies tied in their only meeting this season.

Wednesday the Sore Losers juggled positions and were fortunate in taking a 20-13 win from the Broozers. Three different players scored from three different quarterbacks to account for the Sore Losers attack while Brian Harris connected with touchdown passes to Duane Granger and Ron Wolfenweber to put Broozers point on the board.

Sunday four teams managed to complete their games without missing a significant part of the World Series or the Eskimo-Blue Bombers preview to the Western CFL Final.

Doug MacKenzie hit Mitch Richardson and Keane (2%) Aldous for Dirty Dozen touchdowns but couldn't find a receiver for the conversions. Bob 'Wrecking Crew' Heyworth found a nameless #34 for both Sore Losers' majors. He also had trouble converting and the game ended 12-12. It makes those one point conversions loom very large doesn't it?

Rummies' quarterback Geoff Holden (who doubles as 'Rookie of the Year' in the Sturgeon Valley Men's Football League where he fields for Calahoo Chiefs) passed twice to brother Martin and once each to John Provencal and Denis (Road Runner) Cournoyer for touchdowns in their 25-6 win over the Broozers.

Broozers, who were playing their second tough game of the week (they met the Sore Losers Wednesday) got their only score from Duane Granger on a pass from Brian Harris.

The Phantoms collected two easy points with a default game over the defunct Razorbacks. Both the Phantoms and the Broozers have four points and remain two points up on the 'charging' Converts.

Last week it was reported that the Converts could be spoilers. Well they haven't stopped a potential champion but they did spoil the day for the Blubber Butts. With the Please Turn to Page B-13 record the Converts boast the Butts likely figured to merely show up for the two points. It wasn't too be that way.

The Converts opened the game with possession when the Butts chose to go with the favouring wind. Backed by the steady quarterbacking of 'casual' George Bonneville and sure handed receivers the Converts marched downfield for a major. Les (Mr. Alberta) Martin was credited with the score.

A tough defense stymied the Blubber Butts attack and the Convert offensive machine took over again. This time centre Duff Jamison capped a drive when he crossed the goal-line after taking a short screen pass in the flat.

Converts went three up a few plays later when split end Mark Thompson hauled in the first of two exceptional catches for touchdowns. He ran the ball for another when the Butts defensive half Ace Crossley bobbled an interception attempt and the ball landed in Thompson's arms behind the defender.

Blubber Butts' centre John Savich caught two TD passes from Larry 'The Bomb' Powers. One of these was a diving catch in the Convert end zone near the end of the game. Leading scorer Rob "Little Guts" Crossley added to his lead with a last play touchdown catch on a well executed 'sleeper'.

With only two Sunday's remaining it's going to take an upset to force a playoff game for the League championship and that means the Blubber Butts would have to defeat the Rummies next Sunday. The same day the Sore Losers have a tough game with the Longview Longhorns (who have lost only one) and they would need the win along with another in two weeks to tie the Rummies in the point standings.

It should be a great finish to the league's inaugural season.

For the first time ever, the City of St. Albert will have its very own Men's Fastball League. The spring of 1979 will see as many as eight competitive men's teams begin league play.

"The timing is right," said League President Gene Lytwyn, "for the many fastball players resident in St. Albert to begin playing in a competitive league without their own city. The popularity of fastball is growing as evidenced by the continuing growth of the divisional structure in the City of Edmonton and the Sturgeon Valley League."

The interest is here. St. Albert teams are charter members of the Greater St. Albert Men's Fastball Association under which the league will operate. The Association will be affiliated with the Alberta Amateur Softball Association.

Meadowview Park, located at Mission Avenue and Meadowview Road and consisting of two diamonds will be the home of the new league. The league schedule will run from the middle of May till the middle of August.

distinct edge in play, there was plenty of action in both ends throughout, with St.
Albert outshooting their guests 37-30. Coach Lionel Rouault and assistant Gary Lenz used 15 skaters and two goalies and had a good chance to see how the club operated under fire.

Erin Oor and Mike Wells opened the scoring on a two on one break, with Oor deking the Elk goalie to finish the play. Midway through the first period, Tony Rouault put Carma two ahead, coming from behind the net to score. In the first half of the second period, St.
Albert added two more goals, one from Garth Borle, and the other by Don Neil from Oor.

Midway, the Elks got on the scoreboard with a rush which ended in a breakaway.
Following a series of double penalties, resulting from aggressive play by both teams, the Fort club notched its second goal with a faceoff shot with just nine seconds left in the frame.

The third period was hotly contested, with Oor connecting from Rouault after only 12 seconds. An Elk winger left open in front put the score at 5-3 after six minutes, and five minutes later, Neil ended the scoring with an unassisted goal, for St.
Albert.

Carma's St. Albert Bantams look like they will be providing lots of good hockey action this year, in the newly formed Sturgeon Pembina League.

Juvenile Hockey

Hodgson Pontiacs speed past Leduc

St. Albert's Ron Hodgson Pontiacs scored two opening period goals in their first exhibition game of the season and added five more in the final period to waltz to a 7-0 shutout over Leduc Stingers.

Playing at home, the Pontiacs showed surprisingly well for their first Juvenile A game, and indicated they will be a force to be reckoned with throughout the coming year.

Under coaches Jim Harmon and Bob Sage the Pontiacs responded well and early conditioning paid off as Leduc was unable to dent the fine defensive play of the team or goalies Scott Gannon or Brent Galbraith.

Cliff Greening and Tod Winquist both tallied twice for the winners, while singles were scored by Robbie Tooth, Ken Young, and John Provincial.

St. Albert took 11 of 16 minor penalties but the two teams still moved the puck around extremely well despite the powerplay opportunities.

The Pontiacs took the lead at 8:40 of the first period when Greening put home a shot by defenceman Bob Crawford and then uped the count to 2-0 when Robbie Tooth, connected on passes from Brad Hancock and Calvin McCauley.

It was all St. Albert needed for the win, but after a scoreless second period the Pontiacs opened up with a barrage in the third.

Just seconds into the final period and Ken Young had furthered St. Albert's lead to 3-0 and with Provincial and Winquist beating Stinger goalie Dave Jantz for goals before the five minute mark. It was all over but the cheering. Greening notched his second at the 14-minute mark and Winquist his second with just under two minutes left to round out the scoring.

Neither Gannon nor Galbraith were tested severely by Leduc but the saves they did make were clean and handled well, indicating St. Albert will have the goaltending to carry them along ways down league and play-off trails next spring.

Coach Harmon said he felt he got a better performance from his team than he had expected for so early in the season and said he was extremely pleased with the defensive work his team showed.

KC's bounce back to life with convincing win

It didn't look like the same team that took part in last week's schmozzel with Fuhr Ford of Spruce Grove.

Sunday the St. Albert K of C bantam football squad put things back together and came up with a 38-8 win.

over 100 yards in Edmonton and St. Albert Bantam football players at last week's game the boys were playing as a team. Their timing was on. The offensive line held up and created gapping holes for the ball carriers and the defensive gang tackled on nearly every play.

Fumbles could have caused the club trouble (they gave away seven in the second half alone) but as things turned out they merely presented St. Albert from completely blowing Foley out of the park. 38-8 was really a flattering score for the losers.

Cheered on by a strong turn out of vocal supporters, the KC's rambling downfield after receiving the opening kickoff and jumped into an early 6-0 lead. Kelly Murray, running out of the fullback position carried the ball off tackle for seven yards to cap the eight play drive.

Murray carried eight times for an 82 yard total before leaving the game early in the third quarter with an injury.

St. Albert's offensive line stalled following the early score but tough play by the defense stopped Foley from moving the ball. Near the end of the quarter Foley was called for no yards and St. Albert took over on Foley's 40 yard line. Two plays later Tracey Fizzell ran around the right end for 40 yards and St. Albert's second major of the game.

From this point Foley began to control the ball fairly well as St. Albert ran into a rash of penalties. Coach Roger Graff blamed the string of penalties on over exuberance due to his club's strong desire to win and erase the memory of the loss to Fuhr Ford. At any rate St. Albert's defense came up big and kept Foley from the scoreboard for the entire second half.

With two minutes to play in the half Steve Ganton returned a Foley punt to the Foley 25 yard line. On the next play Mark Akins threw to Dave Rogers in the end zone for an 18-0 St. Albert lead. O'Neil's convert attempt was no good (as were his previous two) because of a bad snap.

At half time the St. Albert coaches talked to their players and calmed them down a bit in a move to eliminate the illegal procedure and offside penalties that are often characteristic of a team overly anxious to get the jump on their opponents.

Foley began ball tackling consistently in the second half and the result was a rash of St. Albert fumbles. Fortunately the defense continued to come up big and they held Foley to just one score. It came off a swing pass and 57 yard run. The Foley back broke one tackle and treated spectators to a great exhibition of broken field running to earn the score. They were successful on a two point conversion try.

The KC offense moved the ball but fumbled each time they came near to threatening. It was into the final quarter before they put together a drive of six plays that resulted in a 12 yard touchdown run by place-kicker Dennis O'Neil who was taking a turn at fullback for his first time. He was successful in converting his own TD as well as Fizzell's second of the game towards the end of the quarter.

Defense again played a key role in the final quarter as the Foley QB was under continual pressure and as such as prevented from making the play.

Fizzell's second marker was set up by Terry Ducher's recovery of a Foley fumble on the Foley 48 yard line. Fizzell ran 18 yards off tackle to cap a three play drive.

QB Mark Akins playing in the defensive secondary ended the game fittingly when he grabbed off a Foley pass on the last play of the game and ran it back 20 yards before being tackled.

From the bench -- Murray ran 82 yards on eight carries while Fizzell ran for 121 on 10 carries ... Akins was good on three of six passes for 56 yards ... Right defensive end

Andy Wenger consistently sliced through into the Foley backfield ... Offensive left tackle Roy Riege opened holes a truck could have driven through to spring the KC backs ... If it weren't for fumbleitis St. Albert would have at least doubled their points total ... sideline cheering by parents continues to spur on individual efforts by players on the field ... Next game is Sunday at 10:45 a.m. when St. Albert takes on Sherwood Park at Kinsmen Field.

The Club is preparing a program for the Provincial Championships and advertising support from businesses in St. Albert and area is being sought by Joyce Boutette.

The program will be an opportunity for St. Albert businesses to reach all areas of the province and the Northwest Territories and let them know St. Albert is much more than a bedroom community for Edmonton's labour force. It is also an opportunity to invite visitors from out of town into the business establishments of our community.

Anyone who can help the Club through advertising in the program is asked to contact Joyce at 458-3680.

Sailfish end year with awards banquet

A standing ovation for Larry and Debbie Wilson, coaches of the St. Albert Sailfish swim team, brought over 90 swimmers and their families to their feet at the wind-up banquet on Sunday, October 15.

It was the climax of the evening's lineup that began on a flashback note with a short jaunt down memory lane. This season was the 10th anniversary of the Sailfish team that started with just a handful of swimmers and a lot of hard work by the originators, Jim and Ann Kehoe.

The first swim meet attended by the club was in the summer of 1968 in Fort Saskatchewan. Since then, the Club has grown in size and strength which can be seen by the successive wins at both the regional and provincial levels of competition. In the case of this year, it was winner take all.

A representative from Don Packer, coach of the Olympian Swim Club gave a short outline of how an "A" club operates. Presently, St. Albert is classified as a "B" club, training and competing during the summer months only. It is hoped the present club will get some training time in at the new Fountain Park Pool during the first couple of weeks in May before the Grosvenor Park Pool is in operation.

The Olympian Swim Club will be operating out of the new pool and it is strongly rumoured that Debbie Wilson will be the coach for the St. Albert division of this club.

During the evening, certificates for breaking the existing provincial records went to the crack nine and 10 year old girls relay team for their outstanding finish in the 100 meter freestyle relay at the Provincial meet.

Susan Preece, Tiffany Watson, Robyn LeDrew and Jackie Jo Tessier each received this recognition for their strong performances.

The 13 and 14 year old boys relay team consisting of Rod Burton, Terry Lynch, Tom Munro and Otto Rachor not only broke the medley relay record, but nicely smashed the existing freestyle standing at the Provincials last summer. The boys each received certificates showing the new records they set.

The Gordon Pass Memorial trophy for distance swimming was picked up by Sheila Dick for the 800 meter freestyle at the Provincial finals, while Terry Lynch took home the trophy for the 400 meter event.

Standard General Construction has always been a strong supporter of amateur sports in St. Albert and their generosity towards the swim club was very much in evidence when the most improved swimmer awards were given out. All these awards in this category were made possible for the recipients through the kindness of Standard General. The proverbial pin could be heard to drop just prior to Larry Wilson announcing the names.

Men's Open starts Saturday - curling in full swing

The Men's Open gets underway Saturday at the St. Albert rink with 64 rinks expected to be in the fray. Last year's winner, the Ken Matheson rink will be back, and Don Killips, former Provincial senior representative is entered. Kevin Byrne has a rink in, along with well known local curlers Barry Weaver and Kurt Schinking. Play runs through to October 29.

Club Manager Bruce Wilson advises that draws in all mens and mixed leagues are filled, with the exception of the Sunday Mixed, which are still short on both the one o'clock and three o'clock draws.

The Ladies Curling Club has its five leagues filled as usual, all but one of which are daytime curlers.

With 154 rinks in the mens, mixed and seniors and 60 ladies rinks, that means that well over 800 curlers are wending their way to Tache Street every week. (Allowing for some who curl in more than one league).

Germaine Fleury and Gerri Stout on the concession, and Shirley Fisher in the lounge, keep the social activity moving.

Then there are the rental leagues, which include the improved swimmer the choice is partially gauged on the amount of time a swimmer puts in on training. Also, the individual times of each swimmer are recorded at the beginning of the season and followed throughout the season to the final times, be they at the Regionals or Provincials. Stroke accomplishment, too, of each swimmer is noted - can the swimmer do the four basic strokes and how much improvement is shown in technique and style as well as speed throughout the season?

The awards for the most improved swimmers stand as follows: Most improved junior female swimmer - a two way tie between newcomers Robyn LeDrew of the nine and 10 year old girls, and Jillian Hayden of the 11 and 12 year old girls; Most improved junior male swimmer - again drew a tie in a three way split between newcomers Brad Borhaven, Dean Schultz and Jeffrey Hayden all of the nine and 10 year old boys division. Most improved senior female swimmer - Janet Ewen of the 13 and 14 year old girls division. Most improved male senior swimmer - Terry Lynch of the 13 and 14 year old boys team.

Awards then moved along to the most outstanding swimmers in each division. Most outstanding junior female swimmer - Gretel Rachor - 8 and under girls; Most outstanding junior male swimmer - Corey Wilson - boys eight and under; Most outstanding senior female swimmer - Carolyn Wilhelm - 15 and 16 year old girls; Most outstanding senior male swimmer - Rod Burton - 13 and 14 year old boys.

Most dedicated swimmer - Kirsten Madsen, 11 and 12 year old girls. What does it take to win the most dedicated swimmer award? Ask Kirsten's parents what time Kirsten got up in the morning to practice.

One young lady had an especially good wind-up due. Besides receiving the considerable honour of being selected Most Outstanding Junior Female Swimmer, Gretel Rachor was presented with a Gold Medal for her first place finish in the eight and under 25M backstroke at the Provincial Meet hosted by St. Albert in August. Gretel had originally been awarded the Silver Medal but officials changed the placings upon review of the event.

It was a super wind-up to a super year for the club. The executive committee of this club has to be acknowledged for their top notch organization and steering behind the scenes, as well as parental involvement and support. The pool is quiet now, but the wheels of action for next year are already in motion.

Tax changes proposed for small business

Think small

by Jim Smith

The Canadian Federation of Independent Business regards establishment of a more attractive small business investment climate as one of Canada's more pressing issues. With that in mind, the Federation has recommended two major federal tax amendments: a 100% tax write-off for business investment losses in small firms and exemption from capital gains taxes on shares of Canadian-controlled firms held for at least five years. The first measure would reduce the personal risk; the second would increase potential profits.

Canada can't afford the destruction of small firms caused by economic instability. Some measures to create stability are overdue.

What's going on here? Are we in a recession - or is the economy experiencing reasonable growth?

Now that may seem like a dumb question, a lot like standing in the sunlight and asking if it's raining. But the economists don't seem to know the answer. So how can the rest of us, lowly uninformed slobs that we are, hope to have any insight?

Let's forget, for the moment, about whether the economy is in good shape or not. More important is the disturbing fact that none of the so-called experts seems to know the answer with any amount of certainty.

Up and down, around and around. Business can be booming one minute and disastrous the next. We haven't experienced this kind of economic instability in decades.

And the small business sector is getting clobbered.

At the best of times, it isn't easy to be a small business proprietor. Even brief recessions can prove to be fatal. Unless the firm has solid financial backing, there is no cushion to see it through the lean times.

When the small firm fails, the owner doesn't suffer alone. Employees are thrown out of work. The government loses tax revenues. Suppliers are cut off from a source of income. And on and on.

The damage can be minimized, though. A business failure is seldom a personal failure. With every unsuccessful business venture, the entrepreneur acquires knowledge and skills. These skills are invaluable in future business ventures - if the entrepreneur can be convinced to move into another business investment.

The trick, then, is to ensure that the entrepreneur will have adequate incentive to start another business if the original firm fails. And, since studies have shown that about 60% of the investment capital comes from the entrepreneur personally, another 30% originates within the proprietor's family and close friends and only about 10% comes from outside sources, the most valuable step would obviously be to bolster the incentive structure that invites entrepreneurs, their families and friends to lay out their own funds.
